SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition - Production Planning and Manufacturing Sample Questions (Q11-Q16):

NEW QUESTION # 11
What does a line hierarchy in repetitive manufacturing represent?

- A. A production line with an alternative sequence in the routing
- B. A production line with a parallel sequence in the routing
- C. A production line with more than one work center
- D. A production line with prioritized alternative work centers

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 12
where does the system check master data selection settings during the creation of planned orders and production orders?
Note: There are 3 Correct answers to this question.

- A. In the routing
- B. in the bill of material (BOM)
- C. in the work centers
- D. in the MRP controller

- E. in the production version

Answer: A,B,E

Explanation:
The system checks the master data selection settings during the creation of planned orders and production orders in the following places:
In the bill of material (BOM), the system checks the selection ID, which determines which alternative BOM is selected for the material. The selection ID can be maintained in the material master or in the production version.
In the routing, the system checks the selection ID, which determines which alternative routing is selected for the material. The selection ID can be maintained in the material master or in the production version.
In the production version, the system checks the validity period, the lot size, and the selection profile, which determine whether the production version is valid and applicable for the material. The production version combines the BOM and the routing for a material and can be maintained in the material master or in the production version master data. NEW QUESTION # 13
Why do you use Engineering Change Management? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. To save multiple changes for an object
- B. To enable integration into a sales order
- C. To monitor document table changes
- D. To monitor document object changes

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 14
What can you use heuristics in Advanced Planning (PP/DS) for?

- A. To solve planning problems for defined objects
- B. To optimize costs and times in production plans
- C. To set default values in production master data
- D. To automate material movements in material staging

Answer: A

Explanation:
Heuristics are planning functions that execute planning for selected objects, such as products, resources, operations, or line networks, using a specific procedure. Heuristics are used in interactive planning, the SAP S/4HANA Digital Core MRP_live or in the Advanced Planning (PP/DS) production planning run. In the Advanced Planning, you can execute several heuristics, which belong to both production planning and detailed scheduling, for the same products in one planning run. Heuristics can help you to solve planning problems for defined objects, such as creating feasible production plans, scheduling operations, assigning resources, or leveling capacities. Heuristics can also consider various constraints and parameters, such as lead times, lot sizes, setup times, priorities, or alternative modes12.
