Nokia IS-IS Routing Protocol Sample Questions (Q28-Q33):

NEW QUESTION # 28

Refer to the exhibit.

Examine the physical topology of the IS-IS network, the metrics of the links and the levels of the routers. All routers have their system interfaces included in IS-IS. Which of the following statements describes the route-table entry that router R4 will use to reach the system IP address of router R6?

- A. Router R4 will have a default route with router R2 as the next-hop.
- B. Router R4 will have a default route with router R3 as the next-hop.
- C. Router R4 will have a route to router R6's system IP address with router R2 as the next-hop.
- D. Router R4 will not have a matching entry in its routing table for router R6's system IP address.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Router R4 is in Area 49.0001 and R6 is in Area 49.0002. Both routers are Level 2 (L2), meaning that they can communicate across areas using Level 2 IS-IS routing.

Since R2 is the L1/L2 router that connects both Area 49.0001 and Area 49.0002, it will be the next-hop for router R4 to reach R6's system IP address.

The IS-IS protocol will ensure that R4 will have a route to R6's system IP address via R2 as the next-hop.

NEW QUESTION # 29

What is the replacement for ARP in IPv6?

- A. Router discovery procedures.
- B. Stateless address auto-configuration procedures.
- C. Duplicate address detection procedures.
- D. Neighbor discovery procedures.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In IPv6, the Neighbor Discovery Protocol (NDP) replaces the Address Resolution Protocol (ARP) used in IPv4. NDP is responsible for several functions, including resolving IP addresses to MAC addresses (similar to ARP), detecting duplicate IP addresses, and discovering other devices on the network.

NEW QUESTION # 30

When multiple routing protocols offer a route for the same prefix, what part of the router is in charge of deciding which route to make active?

- A. The equal cost multipath configuration
- B. The routing information base (RIB)
- C. The forwarding information base (FIB)
- D. The routing table manager (RTM)

Answer: D

Explanation:

The routing table manager (RTM) is responsible for selecting the best route when multiple routing protocols provide a route for the same destination prefix. It makes the decision on which route to add to the routing table based on the administrative distance, metric, and other criteria.

NEW QUESTION # 31

A new router is added to a broadcast network. What does IS-IS use as the tiebreaker for selecting the DIS if the priorities are the same?

- A. The existing DIS remains the DIS.
- B. The router with the highest interface MAC address.
- C. The Hello packet with the highest sequence number.
- D. The router with the highest system ID.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In IS-IS, the Designated Intermediate System (DIS) is responsible for certain tasks on broadcast networks, such as generating link-state advertisements and acting as the central point for flooding information.

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which of the following statements about router interfaces on a Nokia 7750 SR is FALSE?

- A. They can be used in pairs on the same subnet for redundancy.
- B. They can be assigned IPv4 and/or IPv6 addresses.
- C. The system interface exists by default.
- D. They can be logical or physical.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Typically, interfaces on a Nokia 7750 SR router are not configured in pairs on the same subnet for redundancy. Instead, redundancy is achieved through mechanisms like Virtual Router Redundancy Protocol (VRRP) or other high availability protocols, not by simply using interfaces in pairs on the same subnet.

.....
