ISACA Certified in the Governance of Enterprise IT Exam Sample Questions (Q158-Q163):

NEW QUESTION # 158

An enterprise is considering outsourcing non-core IT processes Which of the following should be the FIRST step?

- A. Update resource allocation policies
- B. Establish service level metrics for outsourced activities

- C. Issue a formal request for proposal to outsourcing vendors.
- D. Conduct a cost-benefit analysis for outsourcing.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A cost-benefit analysis is a process that compares the costs and benefits of a decision or an action, such as outsourcing non-core IT processes. A cost-benefit analysis can help the enterprise evaluate the feasibility, profitability, and sustainability of outsourcing, as well as identify the potential risks and opportunities. A cost-benefit analysis can also help the enterprise determine the optimal level and scope of outsourcing, and select the most suitable outsourcing partner. A cost-benefit analysis should be the first step before issuing a formal request for proposal, establishing service level metrics, or updating resource allocation policies.
