Answer:

Explanation:

Statements	Yes	No
A single Microsoft account can be used to manage multiple Azure subscriptions.	◉	◯
Two Azure sunscriptions can be merged into a single subscription by creating a support request.	◯	◉
A company can store resources in multiple subscriptions.	◉	◯

Explanation

Statements	Yes	No
A single Microsoft account can be used to manage multiple Azure subscriptions.	●	○
Two Azure sunscriptions can be merged into a single subscription by creating a support request.	○	●
A company can store resources in multiple subscriptions.	●	○

Box 1: Yes

You can use the same account to manage multiple subscriptions. You can create an additional subscription for your account in the Azure portal. You may want an additional subscription to avoid hitting subscription limits, to create separate environments for security, or to isolate data for compliance reasons.

Box 2: No

You cannot merge two subscriptions into a single subscription. However, you can move some Azure resources from one subscription to another. You can also transfer ownership of a subscription and change the billing type for a subscription.

Box 3: Yes

A company can have multiple subscriptions and store resources in the different subscriptions. However, a resource instance can exist in only one subscription.

NEW QUESTION # 358

You need to configure an Azure solution that meets the following requirements:

* Secures websites from attacks

* Generates reports that contain details of attempted attacks

What should you include in the solution?

- A. a network security group (NSG)
- B. Azure Firewall
- C. Azure Information Protection
- D. DDoS protection

Answer: D

Explanation:
Explanation

DDoS is a type of attack that tries to exhaust application resources. The goal is to affect the application's availability and its ability to handle legitimate requests. DDoS attacks can be targeted at any endpoint that is publicly reachable through the internet.

Azure has two DDoS service offerings that provide protection from network attacks: DDoS Protection Basic and DDoS Protection Standard.

DDoS Basic protection is integrated into the Azure platform by default and at no extra cost.

You have the option of paying for DDoS Standard. It has several advantages over the basic service, including logging, alerting, and telemetry. DDoS Standard can generate reports that contain details of attempted attacks as required in this question.
