Explanation:

There are five general techniques for resolving conflict. As each one has its place and use, these are not given in any particular order:

Withdraw/Avoid. Retreating from an actual or potential conflict situation; postponing the issue to be □ better prepared or to be resolved by others.

Smooth/Accommodate. Emphasizing areas of agreement rather than areas of difference; conceding □ one's position to the needs of others to maintain harmony and relationships.

Compromise/Reconcile. Searching for solutions that bring some degree of satisfaction to all parties in □ order to temporarily or partially resolve the conflict.

Force/Direct. Pushing one's viewpoint at the expense of others; offering only win-lose solutions, usually □ enforced through a power position to resolve an emergency.

Collaborate/Problem Solve. Incorporating multiple viewpoints and insights from differing perspectives;

□ requires a cooperative attitude and open dialogue that typically leads to consensus and commitment.
