NEW QUESTION # 85

A Platform Engineer needs to utilize the Konvoy Image Builder for building a custom operating system image. This image will be used to deploy clusters on various platforms. The engineer has been tasked with creating an OS image compatible with Konvoy's requirements. In order to successfully build a compatible image using the Konvoy Image Builder, the engineer needs to ensure that a development environment meets the necessary prerequisites.

Which system is required to create a compatible OS image with the Konvoy Image Builder?

- A. A lambda instance within an AWS account
- B. A virtualized arm64 environment using KVM
- C. An x86_64-based Linux or MacOS Machine
- D. A 32-bit Windows machine with a USB connection

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Konvoy Image Builder requires a 64-bit Linux or MacOS environment (x86_64 architecture) to build and customize the OS images.

NEW QUESTION # 86

A company has different Kubernetes clusters for different business units. Every business unit has separate Kubernetes clusters for production and development because the software deployed in production is different than development. Now, all production clusters for all business units are standardized and all clusters for development are standardized as well.

The company recently acquired NKP Ultimate licenses for all Kubernetes clusters.

How can the company control the standard configuration for both environments in all clusters (production and development)?

- A. Install Flux in every Kubernetes cluster and configure the appropriate kustomize.yaml in every Kubernetes cluster.
- B. Install Flux in every Kubernetes cluster with the appropriate kustomize.yaml, with `nkp install flux --kustomize=kustomize.yaml --kubeconfig=<cluster>.conf`
- C. Configure a production workspace and a development workspace and attach each Kubernetes cluster to the corresponding workspace.
- D. Create new Kubernetes clusters for production and development with NKP for every business unit.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 87

A company has 30 Edge devices with lightweight Kubernetes, and developers need to push the application to every edge device. An NKP administrator has the NKP Ultimate license tier configured and has access to all kubeconfig files for the 30 edge devices.

What is the most efficient way that the administrator can lifecycle manage the application deployments?

- A. Create a new Workspace and attach the 30 edge devices to this workspace with Attach Cluster.
- B. Create a script to automate the deployment to every edge device.
- C. Ask the developers to delete the lightweight Kubernetes and deploy new Kubernetes clusters with NKP.
- D. Create a GitHub configuration, deploy it to the 30 edge devices, and configure them to use a GitHub account.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 88

A Platform Engineer for an organization does research in Antarctica. The engineer is preparing a bastion host for deploying NKP while the infrastructure is isolated. Which programs should the engineer ensure are installed on a bastion host before shipping the infrastructure?

- A. oc and az
- B. kubectl and nkp
- C. awscli and nkp
- D. oc and kubectl

Answer: B

Explanation:

The scenario describes an isolated environment in Antarctica, implying an air-gapped NKP deployment where the bastion host serves as the primary management point for deploying and managing NKP clusters without Internet access. The NKPA course outlines the essential tools that must be installed on a bastion host to facilitate NKP deployment and management in such environments.

The required programs are kubectl and nkp:

* kubectl: This is the Kubernetes command-line tool used to interact with Kubernetes clusters, essential for managing cluster resources, debugging, and applying configurations during and after deployment.

* nkp: The NKP CLI (nkp) is the primary tool for deploying, managing, and scaling NKP clusters, including creating bootstrap clusters, deploying clusters, and managing platform applications. In an air-gapped setup, the nkp CLI is critical for executing deployment commands using the Air-Gapped Bundle.

The Nutanix Cloud Native (NCP-CN) 6.10 Study Guide states: "For an air-gapped NKP deployment, ensure the bastion host has kubectl and the nkp CLI installed to manage the deployment process and interact with the resulting Kubernetes clusters." These tools are sufficient for the engineer to deploy and operate NKP in an isolated environment.

Incorrect Options:

* A. awscli and nkp: The awscli is specific to AWS environments, but the question does not specify AWS infrastructure.

Additionally, in an isolated environment, awscli is less relevant without Internet access.

* B. oc and kubectl: oc is the OpenShift CLI, not used for NKP deployments. NKP uses nkp CLI instead.

* C. oc and az: az is the Azure CLI, and oc is for OpenShift-neither is relevant to NKP deployment.
