NEW QUESTION # 19
What is the function of the Publish button in the Visual Builder Studio workspace editor?

- A. To push changes to Git, and also start a merge request
- B. To deploy the sandbox that your AppUI extension is associated with
- C. To start the CI/CD package and deploy pipeline for the current extension
- D. To deploy a test version of your AppUI extension

Answer: A

Explanation:
Full Detailed in Depth Explanatio n:
The Publish button in VBS commits changes to the Git repository and initiates a merge request, enabling collaboration and version control. It doesn't deploy (A or C) or start a CI/CD pipeline (D)-those are separate steps in the Environment or Pipeline tabs.

NEW QUESTION # 20
Dave deployed an AppUI extension to an instance by mistake. How can he fix this?

- A. The extension will be removed in the next quarterly update of Fusion Cloud Apps
- B. The extension can be undeployed in the Visual Builder Studio's Environment tab
- C. The extension cannot be deleted once deployed
- D. The extension can be redeployed by opening a service request

Answer: B

Explanation:
Full Detailed in Depth Explanatio n:
In Visual Builder Studio, if an AppUI extension is deployed to a Fusion Apps instance by mistake, it can be undeployed using the Environment tab in VBS. This tab allows developers to manage deployments, including removing or rolling back extensions from specific instances (e.g., TEST or PROD). Option A is incorrect because quarterly updates don't automatically remove extensions-they're controlled by the developer. Option C is wrong as redeployment via a service request isn't the standard process; VBS provides self-service tools. Option D is false because VBS supports undeployment, making extensions reversible.
