Huawei FusionPower6000 is used with which of the following UPS products?

- A. UPS5000-E
- B. UPS5000-H
- C. UPS5000-A
- D. UPS5000-S

NEW QUESTION # 21

Which of the following nodes allows tenant access to a VXLAN network and intra-subnet communication on the network?

- A. Layer 3 VXLAN gateway
- B. Default VXLAN gateway
- C. Centralized VXLAN gateway
- D. Layer 2 VXLAN gateway

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Huawei VXLAN architecture, different gateway types serve distinct roles in tenant communication. The Layer 2 VXLAN gateway is specifically responsible for providing tenant access to the VXLAN network and enabling intra-subnet communication. A Layer 2 VXLAN gateway (D) connects traditional Layer 2 networks (such as VLAN-based access networks) to the VXLAN overlay. It allows tenant devices or servers to access the VXLAN fabric while maintaining Layer 2 forwarding within the same subnet (same BD/VNI). This means hosts in the same subnet can communicate directly without requiring Layer 3 routing.

In contrast, Layer 3 VXLAN gateways (B) and centralized VXLAN gateways (C) are used for inter-subnet communication, enabling routing between different VXLAN segments. The default VXLAN gateway (A) typically refers to the default gateway IP configured for hosts, which is implemented via Layer 3 gateway functionality.

Huawei CloudFabric design clearly separates Layer 2 access (tenant onboarding and intra-subnet forwarding) from Layer 3 gateway functions (inter-subnet routing).

Therefore, the correct answer is D (Layer 2 VXLAN gateway).
