최신 PRA Certification CPRP 무료 샘플문제 (Q21-Q26):

질문 # 21

What are the four most important factors that support recovery in psychiatric rehabilitation?

- A. Family, community, religion, and relationships
- B. Family, home, resilience, and work
- C. Health, home, hope, and relationships
- D. Health, home, community, and purpose

정답: C

설명:

Recovery in psychiatric rehabilitation is supported by holistic factors that foster well-being and empowerment. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain V: Strategies for Facilitating Recovery) emphasizes key recovery pillars, including health (physical and mental wellness), home (stable housing), hope (motivation and optimism), and relationships (social support), as critical for sustained recovery (Task V.A.1: "Promote recovery principles, including self-determination and satisfaction"). Option B (health, home, hope, and relationships) aligns with this, reflecting SAMHSA's recovery framework, which prioritizes these elements as foundational for individuals to achieve meaningful lives.

Option A (family, home, resilience, work) is close but less comprehensive, as resilience is an outcome and work is a specific goal. Option C (family, community, religion, relationships) is too narrow, as religion is not universal. Option D (health, home, community, purpose) omits hope, a critical motivator. The PRA Study Guide aligns with SAMHSA's recovery factors, supporting Option B.

질문 # 22

Which of the following impacts a person's ability to become engaged in her communities?

- A. Diagnosis
- B. Degree of opportunity

- C. Past successes
- D. Treatment compliance

정답: B

설명:

Community engagement depends on access to opportunities that allow individuals to participate in meaningful roles, such as employment, volunteering, or social activities. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain III: Community Integration) emphasizes that the degree of opportunity-access to resources, inclusive environments, and community activities-directly impacts an individual's ability to engage in their communities (Task III.B.1: "Identify and address barriers to community participation"). Option B (degree of opportunity) aligns with this, as structural and social opportunities (e.g., accessible programs, welcoming community spaces) are critical drivers of community integration.

Option A (treatment compliance) may support stability but is not the primary factor for community engagement. Option C (past successes) influences confidence but is less direct than access to opportunities.

Option D (diagnosis) is a clinical factor that does not inherently determine community participation, which is more about external opportunities and supports. The PRA Study Guide highlights opportunity access as a key facilitator of community integration, supporting Option B.

질문 # 23

A best practice of practitioners in permanent supported housing programs is

- A. motivational interviewing.
- B. short-term targeted interventions.
- C. clear eligibility and readiness criteria.
- D. community integration.

정답: D

설명:

Permanent supported housing programs aim to provide stable, long-term housing with flexible supports to enable individuals with psychiatric disabilities to live independently in the community. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain III: Community Integration) identifies community integration as a best practice, emphasizing the facilitation of meaningful roles and connections in community settings (Task III.A.1:

"Support individuals in accessing and maintaining stable housing"). Option B (community integration) aligns with this, as practitioners in supported housing programs promote engagement in community activities, such as employment, social groups, or volunteering, to enhance recovery and quality of life.

Option A (short-term targeted interventions) contradicts the long-term, flexible nature of supported housing.

Option C (clear eligibility and readiness criteria) is minimal in supported housing, typically requiring only a desire to participate, not a best practice. Option D (motivational interviewing) is a technique, not a core housing practice. The PRA Study Guide and SAMHSA's supported housing guidelines highlight community integration as a key best practice, supporting Option B.

질문 # 24

Which of the following statements regarding psychiatric rehabilitation services is consistent with helping individuals with a severe mental illness achieve maximum community integration?

- A. Identify natural supports and encourage the use of medications
- B. Provide services to individuals in environments of their choice
- C. Develop small group homes and supervised apartments in the community
- D. Enroll individuals in supported employment programs

정답: B

설명:

This question aligns with Domain III: Community Integration, which focuses on supporting individuals to live, work, and socialize in their chosen communities. The CPRP Exam Blueprint emphasizes "providing services in environments of the individual's choice to promote independence and integration." Maximum community integration involves enabling individuals to participate fully in community life, with services tailored to their preferences and delivered in natural settings.

* Option A: Providing services in environments of the individual's choice directly supports maximum community integration by respecting their autonomy and enabling participation in community settings (e.g., home, workplace, or social spaces) rather than segregated or institutional environments. This aligns with the PRA's person-centered, recovery-oriented approach to integration.

* Option B: Supported employment programs are valuable but focus specifically on work, which is only one aspect of community integration. This option is too narrow to represent "maximum" integration.

* Option C: Developing group homes and supervised apartments provides housing options but may limit integration if they are segregated from the broader community, making this less consistent with maximum integration.

* Option D: Identifying natural supports and encouraging medication use supports recovery but does not directly address the delivery of services in community settings, which is central to integration.

Extract from CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain III: Community Integration):

"Tasks include: 1. Supporting individuals to live, work, and socialize in environments of their choice. 2.

Promoting independence and integration through person-centered services in community settings."

질문 # 25

An individual is frequently hospitalized in a locked unit after expressing suicidal thoughts to staff in her residential facility. As a result, she runs away when becoming symptomatic. This is an example of

- A. the effects of learned helplessness.
- B. the breakdown of the therapeutic relationship.
- C. attention-seeking behavior.
- D. avoiding re-traumatization.

정답: D

설명:

The individual's pattern of running away when symptomatic, following repeated hospitalizations in a locked unit, suggests a response to potentially traumatic experiences. The CPRP Exam Blueprint (Domain I:

Interpersonal Competencies) emphasizes trauma-informed care, which recognizes that institutional settings like locked units can re-traumatize individuals, prompting avoidance behaviors (Task I.A.4: "Apply trauma-informed principles in service delivery"). Option A (avoiding re-traumatization) aligns with this, as the individual's running away likely reflects an attempt to avoid the distress and loss of autonomy associated with involuntary hospitalizations, which can feel re-traumatizing, especially for someone with a history of mental health challenges.

Option B (breakdown of the therapeutic relationship) is possible but not directly supported, as the scenario focuses on hospitalization, not staff interactions. Option C (attention-seeking behavior) is a stigmatizing assumption that contradicts recovery-oriented care. Option D (learned helplessness) implies passivity, not the proactive avoidance behavior described. The PRA Study Guide highlights avoidance as a trauma-informed response to re-traumatizing settings, supporting Option A.
