Who should take the CIPT exam

The CIPT Exam is ideal for those tech pros that want to accelerate their data privacy career. When looking at the role that a CIPT certified professional would play, it's most relevant to those that develop, engineer, and audit IT services, applications, and devices. Those taking the course will develop an understanding of privacy-related issues and practices in the context of the design and implementation of information and communication technologies and systems.

IAPP Certified Information Privacy Technologist (CIPT) Sample Questions (Q127-Q132):

NEW QUESTION # 127

Which is NOT a suitable method for assuring the quality of data collected by a third-party company?

- A. Verifying the accuracy of the data by contacting users.
- B. Validating the company's data collection procedures.
- C. Introducing erroneous data to see if its detected.
- D. Tracking changes to data through auditing.

Answer: C

Explanation:

of data collected by a third-party company. This method is generally not recommended because it involves deliberately inserting false information into a system, which can cause integrity issues and may lead to compliance and trust issues. Instead, verifying the accuracy of the data by contacting users, validating the company's data collection procedures, and tracking changes to data through auditing are more appropriate and standard methods to ensure data quality.

NEW QUESTION # 128

Which concept related to privacy choice is demonstrated by highlighting and bolding the "accept" button on a cookies notice while maintaining standard text format for other options?

- A. Illuminating
- B. Tagging
- C. Suppression
- D. Nudging

Answer: D

Explanation:

Highlighting and bolding the "accept" button on a cookies notice while maintaining standard text format for other options is an example of "nudging." Nudging involves subtly guiding users towards a particular decision by making that option more visually prominent or appealing. In this case, the design choice makes it more likely that users will accept the cookies rather than explore other options, which could undermine informed consent and user autonomy. NEW QUESTION # 129

A company seeking to hire engineers in Silicon Valley ran an ad campaign targeting women in a specific age range who live in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Which Calo objective privacy harm is likely to result from this campaign?

- A. Lost opportunity.
- B. Social detriment.
- C. Economic loss.
- D. Loss of liberty.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The scenario describes an ad campaign targeting a specific demographic (women in a certain age range) in the San Francisco Bay Area. This kind of targeted ad campaign can lead to "lost opportunity" as defined by Calo's objective privacy harms. When a company narrows its candidate search to such specific criteria, it effectively excludes individuals who do not fit these criteria, thereby denying them the opportunity to apply for the positions. This kind of exclusion can be particularly harmful if the criteria are based on characteristics like gender and age, leading to potential discrimination and bias in hiring practices. According to Calo, lost opportunities due to such discriminatory targeting can result in significant privacy harm. This is further supported by IAPP's guidelines on avoiding discrimination in data practices.

NEW QUESTION # 130

Granting data subjects the right to have data corrected, amended, or deleted describes?

- A. Accountability.
- B. Use limitation.
- C. Individual participation.
- D. A security safeguard.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 131

SCENARIO

Kyle is a new security compliance manager who will be responsible for coordinating and executing controls to ensure compliance with the company's information security policy and industry standards. Kyle is also new to the company, where collaboration is a core value. On his first day of new-hire orientation, Kyle's schedule included participating in meetings and observing work in the IT and compliance departments.

Kyle spent the morning in the IT department, where the CIO welcomed him and explained that her department was responsible for IT governance. The CIO and Kyle engaged in a conversation about the importance of identifying meaningful IT governance metrics. Following their conversation, the CIO introduced Kyle to Ted and Barney. Ted is implementing a plan to encrypt data at the transportation level of the organization's wireless network. Kyle would need to get up to speed on the project and suggest ways to monitor effectiveness once the implementation was complete. Barney explained that his short-term goals are to establish rules governing where data can be placed and to minimize the use of offline data storage.

Kyle spent the afternoon with Jill, a compliance specialist, and learned that she was exploring an initiative for a compliance program to follow self-regulatory privacy principles. Thanks to a recent internship, Kyle had some experience in this area and knew where Jill could find some support. Jill also shared results of the company's privacy risk assessment, noting that the secondary use of personal information was considered a high risk.

By the end of the day, Kyle was very excited about his new job and his new company. In fact, he learned about an open position for someone with strong qualifications and experience with access privileges, project standards board approval processes, and application-level obligations, and couldn't wait to recommend his friend Ben who would be perfect for the job.

Which data practice is Barney most likely focused on improving?

- A. Retention.
- B. Deletion
- C. Inventory.
- D. Sharing

Answer: B

Explanation:

Barney is leading a project to improve the organization's data practices and has implemented a new policy that requires all employees to delete any data that is no longer needed for business purposes. This suggests that Barney is most likely focused on improving the organization's data deletion practices.
