EC-COUNCIL EC Council Certified Incident Handler (ECIH v3) Sample Questions (Q240-Q245):

NEW QUESTION # 240

OmegaTech was compromised by an insider who deliberately introduced vulnerabilities into its flagship product after being recruited by a rival company. OmegaTech wants to minimize such risks in the future. What should be its primary focus?

- A. Implement a strict vetting process for every software release.
- B. Introduce surprise loyalty tests.
- C. Strengthen background checks and continually monitor employee behavior for anomalies.
- D. Rotate job roles every six months.

Answer: C

Explanation:

ECIH insider threat guidance emphasizes continuous monitoring and behavioral analysis combined with background checks as the most effective deterrent against malicious insiders.

Option D is correct because insider threats often evolve after hiring. Continuous monitoring detects abnormal behavior patterns that static vetting cannot.

Options A-C are insufficient or ineffective against sophisticated insider threats.

NEW QUESTION # 241

Ikeo Corp. hired an incident response team to assess the enterprise security. As part of the incident handling and response process, the IR team is reviewing the current security policies implemented by the enterprise. The IR team finds that employees of the organization do not have any restrictions on Internet access: they are allowed to visit any site, download any application, and access a computer or network from a remote location. Considering this as the main security threat, the IR team plans to change this policy as it can be easily exploited by attackers.

Which of the following security policies is the IR team planning to modify?

- A. Permissive policy
- B. Paranoid policy
- C. Prudent policy
- D. Promiscuous policy

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 242

Mike is an incident handler for PNP Infosystems Inc. One day, there was a ticket submitted regarding a critical incident and Mike was assigned to handle the incident. During the process of incident handling, at one stage, he performed incident analysis and validation to check whether the incident is a genuine incident or a false positive.

Identify the stage he is currently in.

- A. Incident disclosure
- B. Incident recording and assignment
- C. Post-incident activities
- D. Incident triage

Answer: D

Explanation:

Incident triage is the stage in the incident response process where the incident handler, like Mike, performs an initial assessment of the reported incident to determine its validity, severity, and potential impact. This includes analyzing the incident to verify if it is a genuine threat or a false positive. The purpose of incident triage is to prioritize incidents based on their criticality and ensure that resources are allocated effectively to address the most serious threats first. This stage is crucial for efficient incident management, as it helps in filtering out false alarms and focusing on real security incidents that require immediate attention.

References: The ECIH v3 curriculum covers the incident response lifecycle, including the importance of incident triage as a key step in ensuring that incident handling efforts are focused on genuine security incidents, thereby optimizing the response process.

What additional action would best align with Meera's eradication efforts?

- A. Issuing server restart commands
- B. Deleting user accounts
- C. Sharing threat details with security forums
- D. Installing anti-DDoS tools

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation (ECIH-aligned):

Option B is correct because sharing phishing indicators with trusted security communities helps disrupt attacker infrastructure and prevents reuse of the same campaign against other organizations.

Option A is unrelated. Option C is ineffective against phishing. Option D is overly destructive and unnecessary.
