질문 # 66
When creditworthiness is a criterion for government loan approval, loan applicants must provide

- A. sufficient capitalization.
- B. a promise to pay interest at the government borrowing rate.
- C. a satisfactory history of repaying debt.
- D. a credit rating from a major bank.

정답：C

Creditworthiness and Loan Approval:
* When creditworthiness is a criterion for government loans, the applicant must demonstrate a satisfactory history of repaying debt, as this reflects their ability to fulfill repayment obligations in the future.
Why a Satisfactory History Is Required:
* Past repayment behavior is considered the best indicator of future performance. Government agencies prioritize reducing the risk of defaults by ensuring applicants have a proven history of managing debt responsibly.

Why Other Options Are Incorrect:
* A. A credit rating from a major bank:While a credit rating is helpful, it is not typically required for government loans. Instead, creditworthiness is evaluated based on repayment history and other financial factors.
* C. Sufficient capitalization:This is important for business loans, but it does not address creditworthiness.
* D. A promise to pay interest at the government borrowing rate:A promise is not sufficient to establish creditworthiness.
References and Documents:
* OMB Circular A-129:Requires agencies to assess creditworthiness before granting loans.
* GAO Loan Management Guide:Highlights repayment history as a key criterion for loan approval.

* A. Debt Collection Improvement Act:Focuses on improving debt collection practices for the federal government, not entitlements or interest payments to states.
* B. CFO Act:Improves federal financial management but does not address payment timeliness or interest.
* C. Accountability for Tax Dollars Act:Expands audit requirements but does not involve compensation for delays.
