- A. Personalization
- B. Amazon S3 Bucket
- C. Marketing Cloud
- D. Salesforce CRM

Explanation

This platform is going to present a challenge in terms of connection limits for Data Cloud. Data Cloud supports up to 3 Marketing Cloud connections per org, which means that only 3 Marketing Cloud accounts can be connected as data sources or activation targets. NEW QUESTION # 105
How does Identity Resolution select attributes for Unified Individuals when there is conflicting information in the Data Model?

- A. Leverage Match Rules
- B. Leverage Reconciliation Rules
- C. Create additional Contact Points
- D. Create additional Rule Sets

Answer: B

Explanation:
Reconciliation rules are used to select attributes for Unified Individuals when there is conflicting information in the Data Model. Reconciliation rules can use different methods to prioritize values, such as source sequence, most recent value, or most frequent value. For example, if two profiles have different first names, reconciliation rules can determine which one to use for the unified profile based on the source sequence or the most recent value. NEW QUESTION # 106
A customer has multiple team members who create segment audiences that work in different time zones. One team member works at the home office in the Pacific time zone, that matches the org Time Zone setting.
Another team member works remotely in the Eastern time zone.
Which user will see their home time zone in the segment and activation schedule areas?

- A. The team member in the Eastern time zone.
- B. Neither team member; Data Cloud shows all schedules in GMT.
- C. Both team members; Data Cloud adjusts the segment and activation schedules to the time zone of the logged-in user
- D. The team member in the Pacific time zone.

Answer: C

Explanation:
The correct answer is D, both team members; Data Cloud adjusts the segment and activation schedules to the time zone of the logged-in user. Data Cloud uses the time zone settings of the logged-in user to display the segment and activation schedules. This means that each user will see the schedules in their own home time zone, regardless of the org time zone setting or the location of other team members. This feature helps users to avoid confusion and errors when scheduling segments and activations across different time zones. The other options are incorrect because they do not reflect how Data Cloud handles time zones. The team member in the Pacific time zone will not see the same time zone as the org time zone setting, unless their personal time zone setting matches the org time zone setting. The team member in the Eastern time zone will not see the schedules in the org time zone setting, unless their personal time zone setting matches the org time zone setting. Data Cloud does not show all schedules in GMT, but rather in the user's local time zone. References:

- A. The .zip file
- B. The .txt file
- C. The .csv file

- D. The json file

Answer: D

Explanation:
The file on the Amazon S3 that will contain the metadata about the segment for processing is B. The json file. The json file is a metadata file that is generated along with the csv file when a segment is activated to Amazon S3. The json file contains information such as the segment name, the segment ID, the segment size, the segment attributes, the segment filters, and the segment schedule. The destination system can use this file to identify the segment and its properties, and to match the segment data with the corresponding fields in the destination system.
