Splunk Cloud Certified Admin Sample Questions (Q28-Q33):

NEW QUESTION # 28

Which setting in inputs.conf can be used to specify the interval at which the script runs for a scripted input?

- A. cron
- B. schedule
- C. frequency
- D. interval

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 29

In which of the following situations should Splunk Support be contacted?

- A. When a custom search needs tuning due to not performing as expected.
- B. When a new role that mirrors sc_admin is required.
- C. When an app on Splunkbase indicates Request Install.
- D. Before using the delete command.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Splunk Cloud, when an app on Splunkbase indicates "Request Install," it means that the app is not available for direct self-service installation and requires intervention from Splunk Support.

This could be because the app needs to undergo an additional review for compatibility with the managed cloud environment or because it requires special installation procedures. In these cases, customers need to contact Splunk Support to request the installation of the app. Support will ensure that the app is properly vetted and compatible with Splunk Cloud before proceeding with the installation.

NEW QUESTION # 30

Which best practice most effectively strengthens administrative security within enterprise Splunk Cloud environments?

- A. Sharing generic administrator credentials simplifies collaborative troubleshooting and auditing activities across operational teams.
- B. Granting unrestricted administrative permissions simplifies role management and onboarding processes organization-wide efficiently.
- C. Enforcing multi-factor authentication reduces unauthorized access risks against privileged administrative accounts significantly.

- D. Disabling password expiration permanently improves authentication stability for distributed enterprise deployments globally.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Multi-factor authentication strengthens account security by requiring additional verification beyond passwords alone. This significantly reduces risks associated with compromised credentials and supports enterprise compliance requirements for protecting privileged administrative Splunk Cloud accounts.

NEW QUESTION # 31

Which of the following tasks is the responsibility of a Splunk Cloud administrator?

- A. Configuring deployer
- B. Configuring indexers
- C. Configuring cluster master
- D. Configuring indexes

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Splunk Cloud, configuring indexes is one of the primary responsibilities of a Splunk Cloud administrator.

This task includes setting up new indexes, managing retention policies, and configuring index settings as required by the organization's data retention and compliance policies. Other tasks like configuring deployer, cluster master, or indexers are typically handled by Splunk Enterprise administrators, not Splunk Cloud administrators.

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which of the following methods is valid for creating index-time field extractions?

- A. Use the CU app to define settings in fields.conf, and restart Splunk Cloud.
- B. Use the rexcommand to extract the desired field, and then save as a calculated field.
- C. Create a configuration app with the index-time props.conf and/or transforms.conf, and upload the app via UI.
- D. Use the UI to create a sourcetype, specify the field name and corresponding regular expression with capture statement.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The valid method for creating index-time field extractions is to create a configuration app that includes the necessary props.conf and/or transforms.conf configurations. This app can then be uploaded via the UI. Index-time field extractions must be defined in these configuration files to ensure that fields are extracted correctly during indexing.
