CompTIA Cloud+ (CV0-004) Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q377-Q382):

NEW QUESTION # 377

A software engineer at a cybersecurity company wants to access the cloud environment. Per company policy, the cloud environment should not be directly accessible via the internet. Which of the following options best describes how the software engineer can access the cloud resources?

- A. Token-based access
- B. Web portal
- C. Bastion host
- D. SSH

Answer: C

Explanation:

A bastion host is the best option described for accessing cloud resources without direct internet access. It acts as a secure gateway to access internal networks from external sources and is often used in conjunction with other security measures such as SSH for secure connections.

Reference: The use of bastion hosts as a secure access point to cloud resources is a security best practice covered in the CompTIA Cloud+ certification's domain on cloud security.

NEW QUESTION # 378

An organization has been using an old version of an Apache Log4j software component in its critical software application. Which of the following should the organization use to calculate the severity of the risk from using this component?

- A. CVE
- B. CWE
- C. CVSS
- D. CWSS

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Common Vulnerability Scoring System (CVSS) is what the organization should use to calculate the severity of the risk from using an old version of Apache Log4j software component. CVSS provides an open framework for communicating the characteristics and impacts of IT vulnerabilities. Reference: CompTIA Cloud+ Study Guide (Exam CV0-004) - Chapter on Risk Management

NEW QUESTION # 379

A security analyst reviews the daily logs and notices the following suspicious activity:

Host	NA/US/John Smith
IP	10.150.71.151
Activity	A powershell process executed compressed, encoded command line content.

The analyst investigates the firewall logs and identifies the following:

Operating system	Kali Linux
CPU	x64
Filesystem	ext4
User	John Smith
Category	Compromised - Unauthorized Access
Domain	NA/US
IP	201.101.25.121 (External)
Port	4444
Connection type	Inbound Connection

Which of the following steps should the security analyst take next to resolve this issue? (Choose two.)

- A. Check the running processes to confirm if a backdoor connection has been established.
- B. Submit an IT support ticket and request Kali Linux be uninstalled from John Smith's computer
- C. Block all outbound connections from the IP address 10.150.71.151.
- D. Contact John Smith and request the Ethernet cable attached to the desktop be unplugged
- E. Upgrade the Windows x64 operating system on John Smith's computer to the latest version.
- F. Block all inbound connections on port 4444 and block the IP address 201.101.25.121.

Answer: A,F

Explanation:

Given the suspicious activity and Kali Linux's association with penetration testing and hacking tools, the security analyst should block all inbound connections on port 4444, as it is commonly used for malicious purposes, and block the IP address that's potentially the source of the intrusion. Additionally, checking the running processes on John Smith's computer is crucial to determine if a backdoor or unauthorized connection has been established.

NEW QUESTION # 380

Two CVEs are discovered on servers in the company's public cloud virtual network. The CVEs are listed as having an attack vector value of network and CVSS score of 9.0. Which of the following actions would be the best way to mitigate the vulnerabilities?

- A. Upgrading the operating systems to the latest beta
- B. Encrypting the operating system disks
- C. Disabling unnecessary open ports
- D. Patching the operating systems

Answer: D

Explanation:

For vulnerabilities with a high CVSS score and a network attack vector, the most effective and direct mitigation action is to patch the operating systems. Patching addresses the specific vulnerabilities that have been identified and helps to secure the servers against the known exploits that could take advantage of these CVEs. NEW QUESTION # 381

A cloud developer is creating a static website that customers will be accessing globally. Which of the following services will help reduce latency?

- A. CDN
- B. Application load balancer

- C. VPC
- D. API gateway

Answer: A

Explanation:

A Content Delivery Network (CDN) is the service that will help reduce latency for a static website accessed globally. CDNs distribute content across multiple geographically dispersed servers, allowing users to connect to a server that is closer to them, thereby reducing the time it takes to load the website.

Reference: The use of CDNs is a common practice to enhance global access and improve user experience, as covered under Cloud Concepts in the CompTIA Cloud+ certification.
