Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 82

A developer is working on a project to import data from an external system into Salesforce. The data contains sensitive information that should not be visible to all users in Salesforce.

What should the developer do to ensure that the data is secure?

- A. Use the Apex Data Loader to import the data and write Apex code to handle security and access control.
- B. Use the Salesforce CLI to import the data and set up user permissions to restrict access to sensitive data.
- C. Use the Data Import Wizard to import the data and set up field-level security to restrict access to sensitive fields.
- D. Use a third-party tool to encrypt the sensitive data before importing it into Salesforce.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Data Import Wizard allows importing data while adhering to Salesforce's sharing and security model. By setting field-level security, sensitive fields can be hidden from unauthorized users.

Other Options:

Option A: Encrypting data externally is unnecessary since Salesforce has built-in security features.

Option B: Using the Data Loader with Apex adds unnecessary complexity.

Option D: The Salesforce CLI does not provide direct data import capabilities with security settings.
