Scrum Professional Scrum Master I Sample Questions (Q110-Q115):

NEW QUESTION # 110
When multiple Scrum Teams are working on a single product, what best describes the Definition of Done?
(choose the best answer)

- A. Each Scrum Team uses its own, but must make their definition clear to all other teams so the differences are known.
- B. Each Scrum Team defines and uses its own. The differences are discussed and reconciled during a hardening Sprint.
- C. The Scrum Masters from each Scrum Team define a common Definition of Done.
- D. When multiple Scrum Teams are working together on a product, they must mutually define and comply with the same Definition of Done.

Answer: D

Explanation:
The correct answer is A. When multiple Scrum Teams are working together on a product, they must mutually define and comply with the same Definition of Done. According to the Scrum Guide1, "If there are multiple Scrum Teams working on the system or product release, the development teams on all of the Scrum Teams must mutually define the definition of "Done"." This ensures that the product increment is integrated, consistent, and potentially releasable at the end of each Sprint. The other options are incorrect because they allow for different Definitions of Done for different teams, which can lead to confusion, inconsistency, and technical debt.

NEW QUESTION # 111
You are the Scrum Master for four Scrum Teams working from the same Product Backlog. Several of the developers come to you complaining that work identified for the upcoming two Sprints will require full-time commitment from a technical specialist who is external to the teams. What are two key concerns for the Scrum Master to take into account in this situation? (Choose two.)

- A. The ability of the Scrum Teams to produce integrated Increments.
- B. The need to have enough work to keep all Development Team members busy.
- C. The benefit of Development Teams figuring out a solution for themselves.
- D. The desire to maintain a stable velocity.

Answer: A,C

NEW QUESTION # 112
What does n mean tor a scrum Team to be cross-function at? (choose the best answer)

- A. Developers on the Scrum Team work closely with business analysis architects developers, and testers who are not on the team
- B. The Scrum Team includes not only developers but also business analysts, architects, and testers
- C. The Scrum Team is a virtual team drawing from separate teams of business analysts, architects, developers, and testers
- D. The Scrum Team includes skilled individuals who together have all the skins necessary to create value each sprint

Answer: D

Explanation:
According to the Scrum Guide, a Scrum Team is cross-functional if it includes skilled individuals who together have all the skills necessary to create value each Sprint. This means that the Developers can work on any aspect of the product without depending on others outside the team. The other options are not valid descriptions of cross-functionality, as they either imply that the Developers work in silos or rely on external people (such as business analysts, architects, testers, or separate teams).

NEW QUESTION # 113

When must a Product Owner release each Increment? (Choose the best answer.)

- A. Whenever the product is free of defects.
- B. When the Scrum Team finishes their work.
- C. When it makes sense.
- D. After every Sprint, Without exception.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 114

Marian is the Product Owner envisioning a project for a new release of her product. She made a projection of a release date based upon a sustained velocity of 17 completed units of work per Sprint. Over the first 3 Sprints, the average velocity was 13 for work that the Development Team estimated as 90% done. The Development Teams, feeling the need to meet the plan, figured that a velocity of 17 was within their reach.
A good way to continue is:

- A. The Development Team should remind Marian to find funding for enough Release Sprints in which the remaining work can be done.
- B. Add enough people to the Development Team for the deadline to be made.
- C. The opportunity to inspect and adapt is lost. Opaqueness has replaced transparency. Predictability has dropped below zero. The produced software is not usable. As the rules of Scrum have not been respected, it is the Scrum Master's duty to assess whether repair is possible, or a restart with a more reliable team. If not, the Scrum Master should cancel the project.
- D. The Development Team makes sure that all of the selected scope per Sprint is as "Done" as possible. The undone work is estimated and added to the Sprint Backlog of the next Sprint, so it doesn't mess up the Product Backlog.
