NEW QUESTION # 18

A development team is building a new AI-powered customer service chatbot. They have successfully integrated an LLM from Hugging Face into their application via a Nutanix Enterprise AI (NAI) endpoint. The NAI administrator has confirmed the endpoint is in the 'Active' state, and internal sample requests run from the NAI Endpoint section return an 'accurate' response and 'Succeeded' status.

However, the developers report that the chatbot frequently provides vague or irrelevant answers to user queries, leading to low customer satisfaction scores. They describe the LLM's performance for this specific chatbot task as "suboptimal." What should the administrator advise the developers to do next to improve the quality of the LLM's responses for the customer service chatbot task?

- A. Reseed the initial dataset and reimport the existing LLM within Nutanix Enterprise AI without implementing a RAG platform.

- B. Instruct the administrator to check the Kubernetes pod logs for the endpoint to identify any CRASHLOOPBACKOFF or OOMKilled errors that might be affecting model inference.
- C. Increase the number of instances for the NAI endpoint to enhance performance and reduce latency.
- D. Consult the Hugging Face documentation for the specific LLM to review its training data, intended use cases, and capabilities.

An Accounting Department is thrilled with the RAG Application that the Application & Data Science Teams recently rolled out. However, they provided some feedback that sometimes (approximately 20% of the time), the documents retrieved are not relevant to their prompts or are too generic.

During development, there was extensive testing between models to make sure the best possible model was selected. The Accounting Department emphasizes that when the responses use the right documents, the results are very good and they are pleased with the completeness, accuracy, and coherence of those responses.

What would be a way to address the irrelevant RAG results without having to rebuild the entire workflow?

- A. Fine-tune the Large Language Model on a broader dataset to enable it to generate more relevant responses.
- B. Implement a rerank model as a post retrieval step to re-order initially retrieved documents based on query-document relevance.
- C. Replace the embedding model with a larger, more general-purpose language model to improve document retrieval.
- D. Significantly expand the document knowledge base by ingesting a much larger volume of financial reports.
