CWNP Certified Wireless Analysis Professional Sample Questions (Q118-Q123):

NEW QUESTION # 118

As the WLAN engineer in your organization, you must troubleshoot performance problems related to co- channel interference (CCI).

What is a good measurement of CCI impact in addition to the number of APs seen on a channel?

- A. Utilization
- B. The frequency used
- C. Retries
- D. Non-Wi-Fi device count

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 119

A client is operating in an unstable RF environment. Out of five data frames transmitted to the client it only receives four. The client sends a Block Ack to acknowledge the receipt of these four frames but due to frame corruption the Block Ack is not received by the AP. Which frames will be retransmitted?

- A. Only the data frame which was corrupted
- B. Only the Block Ack
- C. Both the corrupted data and Block Ack
- D. All data frames

Answer: D

Explanation:

If the AP does not receive the Block Ack, it has no confirmation of which MPDUs were successfully received within the block. Without that acknowledgment, the transmitter must assume delivery failure for the outstanding frames and retransmit the entire burst to ensure reliable delivery.

NEW QUESTION # 120

What is the function of 802.11 Management frames?

- A. Communicate configuration changes between WLAN controller and APs
- B. Prioritize network administration traffic
- C. Manage the flow of data
- D. Manage the BSS

Answer: D

Explanation:

802.11 Management frames are used to establish, maintain, and terminate wireless connections within a Basic Service Set. They handle functions such as discovery (Beacon and Probe), authentication, association, and disassociation, which collectively manage the operation and structure of the BSS.

NEW QUESTION # 121

When a data frame is encrypted with WPA2, to which portion of the frame is the encryption applied?

- A. Frame body excluding the LLC PDU
- B. The whole MPDU
- C. Frame body and MAC Header
- D. Frame body including the LLC PDU

Answer: D

Explanation:

When a data frame is encrypted with WPA2, the encryption is applied to the frame body including the LLC PDU. The LLC PDU (Logical Link Control Protocol Data Unit) is a part of the frame body that contains information such as protocol type, source and destination service access points (SAPs), and control fields. The LLC PDU is added by the LLC (Logical Link Control) sublayer to provide multiplexing and flow control functions for different upper layer protocols. When a data frame is encrypted with WPA2, which uses AES-CCMP as its encryption algorithm, both the payload and the LLC PDU are encrypted as a single unit. The MAC header and FCS are not encrypted, as they are needed for addressing and error detection purposes. NEW QUESTION # 122

Using a portable analyzer you perform a packet capture next to a client STA and you can see that the STA is associated to a BSS. You observe the STA sending packets to the AP and the AP sending packets to the STA. Less than 2% of all packets are retransmissions. You move to capture packets by the AP and, while the retry rate is still less than 2%, you now only see unidirectional traffic from the AP to the client. How do you explain this behavior?

- A. The portable analyzer is too close to the AP causing CCI, blinding the AP to the client's packets
- B. There is a transmit power mismatch between the client and the AP and while the client can hear the APs traffic, the AP cannot hear the client
- C. The STA is transmitting data using more spatial streams than the portable analyzer can support
- D. The portable analyzer has a lower receive sensitivity than the AP and while it can't capture the packets from the client STA, the AP can receive them OK

Answer: D

Explanation:

When capturing near the client, both uplink and downlink traffic are visible, confirming that communication between the client and AP is functioning properly. After moving near the AP, only downlink frames are visible while the retry rate remains low, indicating the AP is successfully receiving client frames. This behavior suggests the portable analyzer lacks sufficient receive sensitivity to detect the weaker client transmissions at that location, even though the AP, with better receiver sensitivity, can decode them successfully.
