CrowdStrike Falcon Administrator Sample Questions (Q130-Q135):

NEW QUESTION # 130

When a Linux host is in Reduced Functionality Mode (RFM) what telemetry and protection is still offered?

- A. The sensor would function as normal
- B. The sensor provides no protection, and only collects Sensor Heart Beat events
- C. The sensor would provide protection as normal, without event telemetry
- D. The sensor would provide minimal protection

Answer: D

Explanation:

When a Linux host is in Reduced Functionality Mode (RFM), the sensor would provide minimal protection. RFM is a mode that limits the sensor's functionality due to license expiration, network connectivity loss, or certificate validation failure. When a Linux sensor is in RFM, it will only provide basic prevention capabilities, such as blocking known malware hashes and preventing script execution from the /tmp directory. The sensor will not send any telemetry or detection events to the Falcon platform, and will not receive any policy or update changes from the Falcon cloud.

NEW QUESTION # 131

When editing an existing IOA exclusion, what can NOT be edited?

- A. The exclusion name
- B. The hosts groups
- C. The IOA name
- D. All parts of the exclusion can be changed

Answer: C

Explanation:

When editing an existing IOA exclusion, the IOA name cannot be edited. An IOA (indicator of attack) exclusion allows you to define custom rules for excluding suspicious behavior from detection or prevention based on process execution, file write, network connection, or registry events. The IOA name is a predefined name that identifies the type of IOA behavior that you want to exclude, such as "Suspicious Process Execution - Script Interpreter Executing File". The IOA name cannot be changed when editing an existing IOA exclusion, as it is linked to a specific IOA rule in the Falcon platform. However, you can edit other parts of the IOA exclusion, such as the exclusion name, the hosts groups, and the filter criteria.

NEW QUESTION # 132

What is the purpose of using groups with Sensor Update policies in CrowdStrike Falcon?

- A. To group hosts according to the order in which Falcon was installed, so that updates are installed in the same order every time
- B. To prioritize the order in which Falcon updates are installed, so that updates are not installed all at once leading to network congestion
- C. To group hosts with others in the same business unit
- D. To allow the controlled assignment of sensor versions onto specific hosts

Answer: D

Explanation:

The purpose of using groups with Sensor Update policies in CrowdStrike Falcon is to allow the controlled assignment of sensor versions onto specific hosts. This allows users to manage the sensor updates for different hosts based on their needs and preferences, such as testing, staging or production. The other options are either incorrect or not related to using groups with Sensor Update policies.

- D. Versions running, Directory Made Invisible to Spotlight, Logging/Auditing Referenced, Viewed, or Modified

Answer: C

Explanation:

The type of information that is found in the Linux Sensors Dashboard is Hosts by Kernel Version, Shells spawned by Root, Wget/Curl Usage. The Linux Sensors Dashboard is a dashboard that provides an overview of the Linux hosts in your environment
