Cisco Certified Support Technician (CCST) Cybersecurity Sample Questions (Q235-Q240):

NEW QUESTION # 235

Why is it important to regularly update software and firmware in a network or system?

- A. To ensure compatibility with different devices.
- B. To prevent vulnerabilities from being discovered.
- C. To improve the performance of the network or system.
- D. To patch known vulnerabilities and security flaws.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Regularly updating software and firmware in a network or system is crucial to patch known vulnerabilities and security flaws. Software vendors frequently release updates to address any identified vulnerabilities and provide necessary security patches. By keeping systems up to date, organizations can mitigate the risk of exploitation through known vulnerabilities.

NEW QUESTION # 236

You need to design your company's password policy to adhere to the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) guidelines for user password security.

What is the minimum password length that you should require to be consistent with the NIST guidelines?

- A. No minimum length
- B. 8 characters
- C. 16 characters
- D. 4 characters

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to the CCST Cybersecurity course, NIST guidelines (SP 800-63B) recommend a minimum password length of 8 characters for user-generated passwords, without requiring overly complex composition rules, but encouraging longer passphrases for increased security.

"NIST guidelines specify that user-generated passwords must be at least 8 characters in length, and systems should allow passwords up to at least 64 characters." (CCST Cybersecurity, Essential Security Principles, Authentication Best Practices section, Cisco Networking Academy)

NEW QUESTION # 237

What is the purpose of performing a vulnerability scan?

- A. To detect and block malicious network traffic
- B. To identify any exploitable weaknesses in a system or network
- C. To encrypt sensitive data transmission
- D. To assess the performance and latency of network devices

Answer: B

Explanation:

Vulnerability scanning is conducted to identify potential weaknesses or security flaws in a system or network that could be exploited by attackers. By conducting regular vulnerability scans, organizations can proactively discover and address vulnerabilities before they are exploited, ensuring the overall security and integrity of their systems. This helps in preventing unauthorized access, data breaches, and potential damage to the network infrastructure.

NEW QUESTION # 238

What is spear phishing?

- A. A physical attack where an unauthorized person gains entry to a restricted area by following closely behind an authorized person.
- B. A form of social engineering attack that uses SMS or text messages to trick victims into revealing sensitive information.
- C. A type of phishing attack that targets specific individuals or organizations.
- D. A cyber attack where an attacker manipulates and deceives an individual to reveal sensitive information.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Spear phishing is a targeted form of phishing attack that focuses on specific individuals or organizations. In spear phishing, the attacker gathers information about the target and tailors the phishing emails or messages to make them seem more legitimate and convincing. The goal is to trick the target into revealing sensitive information, such as login credentials or financial details.

NEW QUESTION # 239

Which encryption method provides the highest level of security for a wireless SoHo network?

- A. WEP
- B. WPA2
- C. WPA
- D. TKIP

Answer: B

Explanation:

WPA2 (Wi-Fi Protected Access 2) is currently the most secure encryption method for wireless networks. It uses the Advanced Encryption Standard (AES) algorithm, which provides a high level of protection against unauthorized access. WEP (Wired Equivalent Privacy) is an older encryption method that is considered weak and easily crackable. WPA (Wi-Fi Protected Access) is an improvement over WEP but still has some vulnerabilities. TKIP (Temporal Key Integrity Protocol) is an older encryption method used with WPA that has also been found to have security weaknesses. Therefore, the correct answer is WPA2.
