IAPP Certified Information Privacy Technologist (CIPT) Sample Questions (Q26-Q31):

NEW QUESTION # 26

What is an example of a just-in-time notice?

- A. A credit card company calling a user to verify a purchase before it is authorized
- B. Privacy information given to a user when he attempts to comment on an online article.
- C. A full organizational privacy notice publicly available on a website
- D. A warning that a website may be unsafe.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A just-in-time notice (JIT notice) refers to the practice of providing users with relevant privacy information at the point when they are about to engage in a specific activity that involves data collection. This approach ensures that users are informed about how their data will be used right when it is most relevant to them. For example, presenting a privacy notice when a user attempts to comment on an online article fits this description.

This JIT notice informs the user about how their comment data will be processed and stored, ensuring they are aware of the privacy implications at the moment they need to be.

NEW QUESTION # 27

Granting data subjects the right to have data corrected, amended, or deleted describes?

- A. Individual participation
- B. Use limitation.
- C. A security safeguard
- D. Accountability.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 28

Which of the following is NOT relevant to a user exercising their data portability rights?

- A. Detection of phishing attacks against the portability interface.
- B. Re-authentication of an account, including two-factor authentication as appropriate.
- C. Notice and consent for the downloading of data.
- D. Validation of users with unauthenticated identifiers (e.g. IP address, physical address).

Answer: D

Explanation:

Notice and consent for the downloading of data (A): Users must be informed and consent to the downloading of their data.

Reference: GDPR Article 20(1).

Detection of phishing attacks against the portability interface (B): Ensuring the security of the data portability process is crucial, including detecting phishing attacks. Reference: GDPR Article 32.

Re-authentication of an account, including two-factor authentication as appropriate (C):

Re-authentication is necessary to ensure that the data is being ported securely and to the correct person.

Reference: GDPR Article 20(2).

Validation of users with unauthenticated identifiers (e.g., IP address, physical address) (D): Data portability requires authenticated identifiers, and using unauthenticated identifiers is not relevant or secure.

Reference: GDPR Article 20.

NEW QUESTION # 29

What tactic does pharming use to achieve its goal?

- A. It generates a malicious instant message.
- B. It creates a false display advertisement.
- C. It encrypts files on a user's computer.
- D. It modifies the user's Hosts file.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Pharming is a cyber-attack technique that manipulates how users are directed to websites:

* Option A: It modifies the user's Hosts file.

* Pharming works by altering the IP address information in the user's Hosts file or exploiting vulnerabilities in DNS servers to redirect traffic from legitimate websites to fraudulent ones.

* Option B: It encrypts files on a user's computer.

* This describes ransomware, not pharming.

* Option C: It creates a false display advertisement.

* This describes malvertising, not pharming.

* Option D: It generates a malicious instant message.

* This describes a phishing technique, not pharming.

NEW QUESTION # 30

SCENARIO

Kyle is a new security compliance manager who will be responsible for coordinating and executing controls to ensure compliance with the company's information security policy and industry standards. Kyle is also new to the company, where collaboration is a core value. On his first day of new-hire orientation, Kyle's schedule included participating in meetings and observing work in the IT and compliance departments.

Kyle spent the morning in the IT department, where the CIO welcomed him and explained that her department was responsible for IT governance. The CIO and Kyle engaged in a conversation about the importance of identifying meaningful IT governance metrics. Following their conversation, the CIO introduced Kyle to Ted and Barney. Ted is implementing a plan to encrypt data at the transportation level of the organization's wireless network. Kyle would need to get up to speed on the project and suggest ways to monitor effectiveness once the implementation was complete. Barney explained that his short-term goals are to establish rules governing where data can be placed and to minimize the use of offline data storage.

Kyle spent the afternoon with Jill, a compliance specialist, and learned that she was exploring an initiative for a compliance program to follow self-regulatory privacy principles. Thanks to a recent internship, Kyle had some experience in this area and knew where Jill could find some support. Jill also shared results of the company's privacy risk assessment, noting that the secondary use of personal information was considered a high risk.

By the end of the day, Kyle was very excited about his new job and his new company. In fact, he learned about an open position for someone with strong qualifications and experience with access privileges, project standards board approval processes, and application-level obligations, and couldn't wait to recommend his friend Ben who would be perfect for the job.

Which of the following should Kyle recommend to Jill as the best source of support for her initiative?

- A. Investors.
- B. Corporate researchers.
- C. Regulators.
- D. Industry groups.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Jill is leading an initiative to develop a new industry standard for data privacy and security. Kyle should recommend that Jill seek support from industry groups as they are likely to have a vested interest in the development of such a standard and may be able to provide valuable input and resources.
