VMware Advanced VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Operation Sample Questions (Q35-Q40):

NEW QUESTION # 35

A security requirement mandates that specific sensitive fields (e.g., "Credit Card Number") in an application log must be masked before they leave the source VM.

How can the VCF Operations for Logs Agent support this requirement?

- A. It cannot; scrubbing must happen on the server side after ingestion.
- B. By using the "Encryption" checkbox in the installation wizard.
- C. By configuring "Common Parsers" (or Parser definitions) in the agent configuration with a mask or replacement logic (often using Regex) to obfuscate the pattern before the log is transmitted over the network.
- D. By installing a dedicated DLP agent alongside.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 36

A Cloud Admin is troubleshooting a "Stale Data" issue. The "Last Collection" timestamp for a vCenter instance is current (Green), but users report that the metric values for VMs (e.g., CPU Usage) have been a flat line for the last 4 hours, despite known activity.

Diagnostics

Adapter Status: Data Receiving

Collection Status: Success

Integration Point Analysis

vCenter Performance Charts (Source): Shows dynamic, changing data.

VCF Ops Metric Graph: Shows "Static Value" (Flatline).

Logs

[INFO] Processing metric payload... 500 metrics dropped.

[WARN] Metric content validation failed.

What is the most likely architectural cause for "Success" status but "Flat/Stale" metric values?

- A. The Analytics Cluster disk is full, so it is accepting connection handshakes (Status Green) but discarding the write payloads.
- B. The VCF Operations "Blacklist" (Metric Exclusion) configuration in the active Policy is enabled for these specific metrics, so the pipeline drops them and potentially repeats the last known value or shows null.
- C. The vCenter Server Statistics Level is set to Level 1, which does not generate 5-minute data.
- D. The Cloud Proxy time is out of sync with the Analytics Cluster by more than 30 minutes, causing the data points to be discarded as "too old" or "future" upon ingestion.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 37

An application owner reports that "The application was slow yesterday around 2 PM". The administrator checks the logs but sees no "Errors" or "Failures".

How can VCF Operations for Logs help identify a performance issue that doesn't generate explicit error messages?

- A. By rebooting the server.
- B. By enabling "Debug" logging on the agent.
- C. It cannot; it only tracks text errors.
- D. By analyzing the "Content Field" (Value) of logs. For example, if the logs contain processing_time_ms=5000, the administrator can create a query where processing_time_ms > 2000 to find latent transactions.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 38

An adapter instance stays in the "Warning" state. The hover-text error message states: "Collection cycle time exceeded".

What does this specific error imply about the health of the integration?

- A. The network has high packet loss.
- B. The credentials are about to expire.
- C. The target system is too large (too many objects) or responding too slowly, causing the data collection to take longer than the configured interval (e.g., taking 7 minutes to complete a 5-minute poll). This leads to gaps in data.
- D. The adapter is in Maintenance Mode.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 39

A VCF Operations cluster is running with 8 nodes (the maximum for the current sizing standard used by the customer). The environment continues to grow, and the cluster is hitting CPU contention.

Constraints

- Scale-Out limit reached (per internal policy).

- Current Node Size: Medium (8 vCPU).

Goal

Increase compute capacity without adding more VM instances (nodes).

Which scaling method is applicable?

- A. Enable "Hyper-Threading" on the VCF Operations application settings.
- B. Vertical Scale-Up: Shut down the cluster, increase the vCPU and RAM settings on all nodes to the "Large" or "Extra Large" specification, and restart.
- C. Deploy a second separate VCF Operations cluster and use Federation.
- D. There is no solution; data must be deleted.

Answer: B
