NEW QUESTION # 60

How does internal benchmarking work?

- A. For a selected process step, every company code is analyzed and ranked according to the best-run score. This way, you can easily spot the outliers and investigate the company codes that perform well or poorly
- B. A selected process step is compared to the same process step in other companies of the same industry. By using this ranking, you can easily spot the outliers and investigate the process steps that perform well or poorly
- C. An indicator shows to what extent a company is running an effective process in their SAP system
- D. An indicator shows to what extent a company is running an effective process in their non-SAP system

Answer: A

Explanation:

Internal benchmarking in SAP Signavio Process Intelligence compares process performance across different organizational units within the same company. The SAP Signavio Process Intelligence Documentation explains:

* Exact Extract: "Internal benchmarking involves analyzing a selected process step across all company codes within an organization and ranking them based on the Best Run Score. This approach identifies outliers, enabling analysts to investigate company codes with high or low performance." (SAP Signavio Process Intelligence User Guide, section on "Internal Benchmarking").

* Explanation:

* Option D (For a selected process step, every company code is analyzed and ranked according to the best-run score. This way, you can easily spot the outliers and investigate the company codes that perform well or poorly): This is correct as internal benchmarking evaluates performance metrics (e.g., cycle time, error rate) for a specific process step across company codes (e.g., different regions or divisions), using the Best Run Score to rank them and highlight outliers for further analysis.

* Option A (A selected process step is compared to the same process step in other companies of the same industry...) is incorrect because this describes external benchmarking, not internal benchmarking, which is limited to within the organization.

* Option B (An indicator shows to what extent a company is running an effective process in their non-SAP system) is incorrect as internal benchmarking typically focuses on SAP systems and compares internal units, not non-SAP systems.

* Option C (An indicator shows to what extent a company is running an effective process in their SAP system) is incorrect because it is too vague and does not specify the comparison across company codes, which is central to internal benchmarking.
