What is the best data ingestion strategy?

- A. Export web browsing data to an external identity graph.

NEW QUESTION # 60

What is the core function of alerts in the Adobe Real-Time CDP?

- A. To track customer behavior patterns
- B. To monitor privacy regulations
- C. To support data routing and orchestration
- D. To notify users of system or operation predefined conditions

Answer: D

Explanation:

The core function of the Adobe Experience Platform Alerting Service is to provide proactive notifications to users regarding specific system behaviors or operational milestones. Alerts are essential for maintaining the health of the data ecosystem by surfacing issues before they impact downstream marketing activities.

Administrators can subscribe to various types of alerts, which typically fall into categories such as Data Ingestion (e.g., notification when a batch fails to ingest), Dataflows (e.g., when a destination export fails), and System Health. These alerts can be delivered via the in-product notification center or through external channels like email. By setting up predefined conditions—such as an alert for any data ingestion failure—a data engineer can react immediately to rectify issues, ensuring that the Real-Time Customer Profile remains accurate and up to date.

Option B is incorrect because routing and orchestration are handled by the Edge Network and Activation services, not by the alerting mechanism. Option C describes a Governance or Privacy Service function. Option D refers to Segmentation and Analytics use cases. Alerts are strictly an administrative and operational monitoring tool designed to keep teams informed of the status and integrity of their platform workflows.

NEW QUESTION # 61

A data engineer is working on defining a data usage policy via automatic enforcement and has configured dataset labels C1 and C2 to enforce the restriction. The data engineer has set up the marketing actions, enabled the policy, and while activating audiences to destinations, realizes that the policy violations did not occur.

How can the data engineer ensure that the data policy is enforced successfully?

- A. Include the labels C1 and C2 in separate audiences upon activation
- B. Exclude the labels C1 and C2 from any audience upon activation
- C. Include the labels C1 and C2 in the same audience upon activation
- D. Assign labels C1 and C2 to the schema rather than to the dataset during activation

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 62
