The app reads the plate number and asks a customer to input the return date. After the checkout is done and a customer drives a car from the lot. Also, the company wants to provide web self- services for the customers, like center directions and Q&A. And finally, the company needs to add several new views and reports for the management based on the Dataverse data. You are a Solution Architect.

- C. Power Apps portal with embedded model-driven and canvas components
- D. A model-driven and canvas apps
- E. A model-driven app and Power Apps portal
- F. A model-driven app with embedded canvas app component and Power Apps portal

Answer: A,F

Explanation:

As a Solution Architect, you need to know what Power Apps type is best suited for the customers' requirements.

There are three types of Power Apps applications:

Model-driven - responsive Dataverse data-driven applications. This type is more data administration with a back-office and process focus.

Canvas - flexible phone or tablet applications that can use multiple data sources. The canvas app is focused on the end-user and helps to execute a particular task.

Portal - external websites for interaction with Dataverse data. It has the end-user focus.

Your architectural solution should not be monolithic. But it should not contain a lot of small apps either. You need to find the best composition for your solution between three main Power Apps types, Dynamics 365 functionality, components, and other AppStore apps.
