Can deliverables for projects and tasks be inherited from associated requirements?

No. A deliverable associated with a requirement is not automatically associated with the tasks created for that requirement.

You associate a deliverable with a task, independent of associating a requirement with a task.

Associated Inception-To-Date (ITD) Project Actual Cost: USD 60

Associated Project Budgeted Cost: USD 300

Contract Amount: USD 1000

Project Funded Amount: USD 750

$$\left(\frac{60}{300} \times 750 \right) - 80 = 70 \left(\frac{\text{Actual Cost}}{\text{Budgeted Cost}} \times \text{Budgeted Revenue} \right) - \text{Sum of Revenue Event Amount}$$

NEW QUESTION # 89

Shift is one of the key elements in defining project and resource calendars.

Which two additional key elements are required to define the project and resource calendars? (Choose two.)

- A. Expenditure Type
- B. Time off
- C. Schedule Exceptions
- D. Workday Patterns
- E. Accounting Calendar

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Shift is one of the key elements in defining project and resource calendars. Two additional key elements that are required to define the project and resource calendars are:

* Schedule Exceptions: These are dates or periods that override the regular workday patterns and shifts of a calendar. They can be used to define holidays, vacations, or other special events that affect the availability of resources or projects.

* Workday Patterns: These are patterns of working and nonworking days that repeat over a period of time. They can be used to define the standard working days and hours for a calendar. Time off, expenditure type, and accounting calendar are not key elements in defining project and resource calendars. Time off is an attribute of a resource assignment that reduces the availability of a resource.

Expenditure type is a classification of costs that determines how they are processed and accounted.

Accounting calendar is a calendar that defines the accounting periods and dates for transactions.
