CrowdStrike Falcon Administrator Sample Questions (Q194-Q199):

NEW QUESTION # 194

When creating a machine learning exclusion with glob syntax, what are the three items you can target for exclusion?

- A. Triggers, actions or alerts
- B. Parameters, operators, or values
- C. File path, name, or type (extension)

- D. Drive letters, directories, or patterns

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 195

Which statement best describes user permissions in Falcon?

- A. User permissions can be defined by default or custom roles as needed
- B. Users can only have predefined default roles assigned to them before using a custom role
- C. Custom user role permission sets can be shared with all CrowdStrike customers globally
- D. Each Falcon permission needs to be selected when the user account is created

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 196

Which of the following scenarios best describes when you would add IP addresses to the containment policy?

- A. You want to automate the Network Containment process based on the IP address of a host
- B. Your organization has additional IP addresses that need to be able to access the Falcon console
- C. A new group of analysts need to be able to place hosts under Network Containment
- D. Your organization has resources that need to be accessible when hosts are network contained

Answer: D

Explanation:

The scenario that best describes when you would add IP addresses to the containment policy is that your organization has resources that need to be accessible when hosts are network contained. As explained in the previous question, adding IP addresses to the containment policy allows you to create an allowlist of trusted IP addresses that can communicate with your contained hosts. This can be useful when you need to isolate a host from the network due to a potential compromise or investigation, but still want to allow it to access certain resources or services that are essential for your organization's operations or security.

NEW QUESTION # 197

Which report can assist in determining the appropriate Machine Learning levels to set in a Prevention Policy?

- A. Machine Learning Debug
- B. Sensor Report
- C. Machine Learning Prevention Monitoring
- D. Falcon UI Audit Trail

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Machine Learning Prevention Monitoring report in the Prevention Policy Management option allows you to monitor the impact of machine learning (ML) prevention settings on your environment. You can view the number of ML detections and preventions by severity, policy, and host group. You can also drill down into specific events and hosts to see more details. This report can help you determine the appropriate ML levels to set in a prevention policy based on your risk tolerance and security posture.

NEW QUESTION # 198

Which of the following is a valid step when troubleshooting sensor installation failure?

- A. Enable the Windows firewall
- B. Confirm all required services are running on the system
- C. Delete any available application crash log files
- D. Disable SSL and TLS on the host

Answer: B

Explanation:

A valid step when troubleshooting sensor installation failure is to confirm all required services are running on the system. This can help identify if there are any issues with the sensor service, the Windows Management Instrumentation service, or the Windows Remote Management service, which are required for the sensor to function properly. The other options are either incorrect or not helpful for troubleshooting sensor installation failure.
