ISACA Certified Information Security Manager Sample Questions (Q95-Q100):

NEW QUESTION # 95

When electronically stored information is requested during a fraud investigation, which of the following should be the FIRST priority?

- A. Locating the data and preserving the integrity of the data
- B. Issuing a litigation hold to all affected parties
- C. Assigning responsibility for acquiring the data
- D. Creating a forensically sound image

Answer: A

Explanation:
Section: INCIDENT MANAGEMENT AND RESPONSE
Explanation:
Locating the data and preserving data integrity is the only correct answer because it represents the primary responsibility of an investigator and is a complete and accurate statement of the first priority. While assigning responsibility for acquiring the data is a step that should be taken, it is not the first step or the highest priority.
Creating a forensically sound image may or may not be a necessary step, depending on the type of investigation, but it would never be the first priority. Issuing a litigation hold to all affected parties might be a necessary step early on in an investigation of certain types, but not the first priority.

NEW QUESTION # 96

The PRIMARY advantage of performing black-box control tests as opposed to white-box control tests is that they:

- A. simulate real-world attacks
- B. cause fewer potential production issues
- C. require less IT staff preparation
- D. identify more threats

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 97

Which of the following is the PRIMARY impact of organizational culture on the effectiveness of an information security program?

- A. The culture shapes behaviors toward information security.
- B. The culture defines responsibilities necessary for program implementation.
- C. The culture has minimal impact as long as information security controls are adhered to.
- D. The culture helps determine budget for information security controls.

Answer: A

Explanation:
A culture that supports security encourages behaviors that protect information assets.
"Organizational culture has a significant impact on how employees approach security, influencing their behavior and adherence to policies."
- CISM Review Manual 15th Edition, Chapter 3: Information Security Program Development and Management, Section: Security Culture*

NEW QUESTION # 98

Which of the following would be important to include in a bring your own device (BYOD) policy with regard to lost or stolen devices? The need for employees to:

- A. request a remote wipe of the device.
- B. initiate the company's incident reporting process.
- C. seek advice from the mobile service provider.
- D. notify local law enforcement.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 99

Minimum standards for securing the technical infrastructure should be defined in a security:

- A. model.
- B. architecture.
- C. guidelines.
- D. strategy.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Explanation
Minimum standards for securing the technical infrastructure should be defined in a security architecture document. This document defines how components are secured and the security services that should be in place. A strategy is a broad, high-level document. A guideline is advisory in nature, while a security model shows the relationships between components.
