CIMA F3 Financial Strategy Sample Questions (Q343-Q348):

NEW QUESTION # 343

A new company was set up two years ago using the personal financial resources of the founders.

These funds were used to acquire suitable premises.

The company has entered into a long-term lease on the premises which are not yet fully fitted out.

The founders are considering requesting loan finance from the company's bank to fund the purchase of custom-made advanced technology equipment.

No other companies are using this type of equipment.

The company expects to continue to be profitable for the foreseeable future.

It re-invests some of its surplus cash in on-going essential research and development.

Which THREE of the following features are likely to be considered negatives by the bank when assessing the company's credit-worthiness?

- A. The company will continue to remain profitable and to generate net cash.
- B. The company premises are on a long-term lease but are not yet fully fitted out.
- C. Essential on-going research and development expenditure is required.
- D. The founders invested their personal financial resources in the company.
- E. The equipment is advanced technology custom-made equipment.

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

Negatives for the bank:

A). Advanced, custom-made tech equipment - poor resale value and high obsolescence risk, weak security.

C). Premises on a long-term lease and not fully fitted out - limited asset security; further capital outlay still needed.

E). Essential ongoing R&D - continuing cash demands and uncertainty of returns.

Positives, so not negatives:

B). Continuing profitability and net cash generation - good for servicing debt.

D). Founders' personal investment - shows commitment and loss-sharing; strengthens equity base.

NEW QUESTION # 344

LPM Company is based in Country C. whose currency is the CS

It has entered into a contract to buy a machine in three months' time. The supplier is overseas and the payment is to be made in a different currency from the CS The treasurer at LPM Company is considering using a money market hedge to manage the transaction risk associated with a payment.

The assumptions of interest rate parity apply

Which THREE of the following statements concerning the use of a money market hedge for this supplier payment are correct*?

- A. It offers a significantly better outcome than a forward contract
- B. Any opportunity to benefit from future exchange rate movements is lost.
- C. It avoids the need to find immediate finance
- D. It can be tailored to match the size of the payment
- E. It manages transaction risk

Answer: A,D,E

NEW QUESTION # 345

A company has stable earnings of $2 million and its shares are currently trading on a price earnings multiple (P/E) of 10 times. It has 10 million shares in issue.

The company is raising $4 million debt finance to fund an expansion of its existing business which is forecast to increase annual earnings straight away by 25% and then remain at that level for the foreseeable future. The corporation tax rate is 20%. It is expected that the P/E will reduce to 8 times over the next year.

What is the most likely change in shareholder wealth resulting from this plan?

- A. Shareholder wealth will increase by $4 million.
- B. Shareholder wealth will increase by $3.2 million.
- C. Shareholder wealth will increase by $5 million
- D. No change in shareholder wealth.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Current situation:

Earnings = $2m

P/E = 10 # Market value =  $2 \times 10 = $20m$

After expansion:

Earnings increase by 25% # new earnings =  $2 \times 1.25 = $2.5m$

New P/E = 8 # New market value =  $2.5 \times 8 = $20m$

Shareholder wealth (equity value) stays at $20m, so the **most likely change is:

D). No change in shareholder wealth. ******

NEW QUESTION # 346

Company Z has just completed the all-cash acquisition of Company A.

Both companies operate in the advertising industry.

The market considered the acquisition a positive strategic move by Company Z.

Which THREE of the following will the shareholders of Company Z expect the company's directors to prioritise following the acquisition?

- A. The realisation of anticipated post-acquisition synergies.
- B. The retention of key customers of the acquired company.
- C. The integration and retention of key employees.
- D. The regulatory approval required to complete the acquisition.
- E. The development of a dividend policy to meet the expectations of the target company shareholders.

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Reasoning:

After an all-cash acquisition which the market views positively, shareholders in Company Z will mainly focus on value delivery from the deal:

A). Realisation of anticipated synergies - core reason for doing the deal.

C). Integration and retention of key employees - critical in an advertising business where human capital and client relationships are key.

E). Retention of key customers of the acquired company - losing major clients would quickly destroy acquisition value.

B is not a priority: target company shareholders have already been paid out in cash.

D is irrelevant now: the acquisition has already been completed, so regulatory approval is in the past.

NEW QUESTION # 347

The directors of a financial services company need to calculate a valuation of their company's equity in preparation for an upcoming initial Public Offering (IPO) of shares. At a recent board meeting they discussed the various methods of business valuation.

The Chief Executive suggested using a Price-earnings (P./E) method of valuation, but the finance Director argued that a valuation based on forecast cash flows to equity would be more appropriate.

Which THREE of the following are advantages of valuation based on forecast cash flows to equity, compared to a valuing using a price earnings methods?

- A. It avoids the problem of having to forecast a sustainable level of future growth.
- B. It incorporates the time value of money.
- C. The calculations are much simpler.
- D. Using cash is theoretically superior to using profits in a valuation calculation.
- E. It give on estimate of the likely shareholder value that will be created.

Answer: B,C,D
