Cumulative Flow shows:

- A. All of the above
- B. Opportunities to improve
- C. Average cycle times
- D. Rate of acceptance

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 22

Which of the following key problems is the foundation of team dysfunction?

- A. Too much work in process
- B. Absence of trust
- C. Skill disparity between team members
- D. Incomplete team composition

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to both SAFe principles and Patrick Lencioni's model (which SAFe references), the absence of trust is the foundational cause of team dysfunction. Without trust, team members are unwilling to be vulnerable, admit mistakes, or ask for help-leading to fear of conflict, lack of commitment, and poor results.

Building trust allows team members to engage in open, honest communication and constructive conflict, both of which are essential for continuous improvement and high performance. Servant leaders play a key role in fostering this psychological safety by modeling openness, empathy, and transparency.

From SAFe guidance:

"The foundation of high-performing teams is trust. Without trust, teams cannot engage in healthy conflict, commit to decisions, or hold one another accountable." Therefore, the correct answer is D. Absence of trust, as it is the root cause of most forms of team dysfunction.

What is one benefit of PI Planning?

- A. It aligns the ART to established DevOps practices
- B. Allows for faster decision-making
- C. It maximizes team capacity
- D. It fosters cross-team dependencies

Answer: B

Explanation:

One benefit of PI Planning is that it allows for faster decision-making by bringing together all the members of the Agile Release Train (ART) and the relevant stakeholders in a face-to-face (or virtual) event. PI Planning provides an opportunity for the ART to align on a common vision and mission, review the business context and priorities, identify and resolve dependencies and risks, and commit to a realistic and achievable plan for the next Program Increment (PI). By having everyone involved in the planning process, the ART can leverage the collective knowledge and expertise of the participants, reduce ambiguity and uncertainty, and make informed and timely decisions that support the delivery of value to the customers.
