Microsoft GitHub Foundations Sample Questions (Q12-Q17):

NEW QUESTION # 12

Which of the following are advantages of saved replies? (Choose two.)

- A. Saved replies are allocated at the enterprise level for all users.
- B. Saved replies allow you to create a reusable response to issues and pull requests.
- C. Saved replies will send auto notifications when a user is tagged to an issue.
- D. Saved replies are tied to a GitHub user's personal account.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Saved replies in GitHub are a feature that allows users to create and save templates of commonly used responses for issues and pull requests. This feature can significantly enhance productivity and ensure consistent communication.

Saved Replies Are Tied to a User's Personal Account:

Option A is correct because saved replies are specific to a user's GitHub account, meaning they are accessible to the user across all repositories they have access to.

Saved Replies Allow Reusable Responses:

Option C is correct because the primary purpose of saved replies is to allow users to create reusable responses for issues and pull requests, saving time and ensuring consistency.

NEW QUESTION # 14

What folder is the definition files stored in when creating custom issue forms?

- A. `.github/ISSUE_TEMPLATE`
- B. `.issues/ISSUE_TEMPLATE`
- C. `.GitHub`
- D. `.issues`

Answer: A

Explanation:

When creating custom issue forms on GitHub, the definition files are stored in the `.github/ISSUE_TEMPLATE` folder. This directory is used to define issue templates and forms that help standardize the information collected when users open new issues in the repository. The `.github` folder is a special directory used for various repository configurations and workflows.

NEW QUESTION # 15

What qualifier finds issues that mention a certain user?

- A. Smentioned:
- B. mentions:

- C. threads:
- D. mentioned:

Answer: B

Explanation:

The qualifier mentions: is used in GitHub's search functionality to find issues that mention a certain user. For example, if you want to find all issues where a specific user is mentioned, you would use mentions:username. This helps in tracking where a user has been involved in discussions across issues or pull requests.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Which of the following best describes cloning a repository?

- A. It creates a copy of the repository on your local machine.
- B. It creates a copy of the repository on GitHub.com.
- C. It retrieves code updates from the remote repository.
- D. It imports your source code into a new repository.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Cloning a repository in GitHub refers to creating a copy of the repository on your local machine. This allows you to work on the project offline, make changes, and later push those changes back to the remote repository. It does not involve creating a copy on GitHub.com (which would be forking), retrieving updates (which would be pulling), or importing source code into a new repository (which is done differently).
