NEW QUESTION # 76

Code the following adverse effect:

Initial encounter of drug-induced tremors that was caused by Cyclosporin the patient takes for anemia. The anemia is caused by a current diagnosis of colon cancer.

- A. G25.1, T45.1X5A, C18.9, D63.O
- B. D63.O, C18.9, T45.1X5A, G25.1

- C. T45.1X5A G25.1, C18.9, D63.O
- D. C18.9, D63.O, G25.1, T45.1X5A

Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct sequencing of the code would be as follows: side effect of the drug, medication that caused the adverse effect and the underlying condition for why the drug is being taken. In this scenario, because the anemia is caused by a malignancy, ICD-IO-CM guidelines state that the malignancy should be the principal diagnosis "followed by the appropriate code for the anemia (such as D63.0, Anemia in neoplastic disease)."

NEW QUESTION # 77

What is the main role of the tonsils?

- A. Secrete antibodies to destroy ingested microbes
- B. Remove bacteria that enter the body through the nose and/or mouth
- C. Filter lymph and form lymphocytes
- D. Trigger the formation of antibodies

Answer: B

Explanation:

The primary role of the tonsils is to remove bacteria that enter through the oral and nasal cavity. Antigens are molecules located on the surface of pathogens and trigger the formation of antibodies. Lymph nodes filter lymph and form lymphocytes. B cells secrete antibodies that assist in destroying bacterium causing disease.

NEW QUESTION # 78

A patient presents to physical therapy status post repair of a complete rotator cuff tear in the right shoulder due to a fall. After applying ice to the shoulder for 8 minutes, the physical therapist performs a soft-tissue massage to the infraspinatus muscle that lasts 23 minutes. Just prior to discharge, the therapist spends 20 minutes instructing the patient on isokinetic exercises to help improve range of motion. Which CPT and ICD-IO-CM code(s) should be used to accurately describe encounter?

- A. 97010, 97140x2, 97530, M75.121
- B. 97110, 97010, S46.011D, W19,XXXD
- C. 97110, 97140, 97010, Z48.89, S46.091A, W19XXXA
- D. 97010, 97140, 97530, S46.011A, W19XXXA

Answer: B

Explanation:

Although CPT code 97530 does describe therapeutic activities, the focus is directed at improving functional performance, whereas the correct CPT code 97110 works to develop range of motion. The CPT code for a soft tissue massage (or manual therapy 97140) is based on 15-minute increments, however, anything over 8 minutes prior to or after can be counted as a unit. Based on this, the 23 minutes spent can be counted as two units. Sequencing is based on highest RVU.

Coding crosswalk for a rotator cuff tear is classified as a muscle strain, so answer B, which specifies

"other injury," can be eliminated. Because the patient is in the recovery period of the injury, the seventh character would not be considered active but subsequent.

NEW QUESTION # 79

The relative value units of a procedure are based on how much effort is involved, expenses that the practice will incur, and the level of risk associated with it.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

The statement is true. An insurance carrier will use these three measures to determine what the RVU of a procedure should be. Then, based on that, a medical coder can determine what the expected payment should be. Generally, the higher the RVU of a procedure is, the higher the payment will be.

NEW QUESTION # 80

An established 27-year-old female patient is seen with complaints of fatigue and muscle aches that began 3 days ago. The physician draws two vials of blood, collects a urine sample, and performs a pregnancy test. The patient is instructed to drink 8 ounces of water daily, rest, and follow up in 3 days for her results. What CPT codes should be reported for this encounter?

- A. 99212, 81025, 36416, 81007
- B. 99213, 81025, 36410, 81005
- C. 99213, 81025, 36415, 81002
- D. 99212, 81025, 36410x2, 99000, 81020

Answer: C

Explanation:

The documentation demonstrates that the number and complexity of problems addressed is low (fatigue and muscle aches are self-limited problems), the amount or complexity of data to be reviewed and analyzed is moderate (three unique tests), and the risk of complications, morbidity, or mortality of patient management is minimal (the patient was advised to drink more water). (To determine the final level of medical decision making, choose the lowest of the highest two elements. In this scenario, the final level of medical decision making is low, and the CPT code is 99213. When reporting a routine venipuncture, use CPT code 36415. CPT code 36410(a) is reported when it is medically necessary for the physician to draw a patient's blood, and 36416 describes capillary blood collected through a skin prick—certainly not enough to fill two vials. CPT code 99000 can be used to report a specimen being transported to an outside laboratory, but that is unknown in this scenario. A generic urinalysis is reported with CPT code 81002 unless specifically stated that an automated analyzer (81005), a commercial kit (81007), and/or an agar test (81020) was utilized.
