APICS Certified in Planning and Inventory Management (CPIM 8.0) Sample Questions (Q217-Q222):

NEW QUESTION # 217

In preparing for a facility location decision, proximity to suppliers would be classified as which kind of criteria?

- A. Future flexibility factors
- B. Access to transportation
- C. Service level requirements
- D. Cost factors

Answer: D

Explanation:

Proximity to suppliers would be classified as a cost factor in preparing for a facility location decision. Cost factors are the expenses associated with operating a facility in a specific location, such as labor, materials, utilities, taxes, and transportation. Proximity to suppliers can affect the cost of inbound transportation, inventory holding, and quality control. Choosing a location that is close to suppliers can reduce these costs and improve the efficiency and reliability of the supply chain. References:

NEW QUESTION # 218

What is the PRIMARY secure protocol used by a Content Delivery Network (CDN)?

- A. Secure shell (SSH)
- B. Internet Protocol Security (IPsec)
- C. Transport Layer Security (TLS)
- D. Secure File Transfer Protocol (SFTP)

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 219

Given the following data, calculate the appropriate takt time:

Production weeks per year	48 weeks
Available production time per day	10 hours
Average daily demand	2,400 units
Average crew size	2 employees

- A. 0.25 minutes
- B. 4 minutes
- C. 2 minutes
- D. 1 minute

Answer: D

Explanation:

Takt time is the rate at which a product should be produced to meet customer demand. It is calculated by dividing the available production time by the customer demand. In this case, the available production time is 10 hours per day, and the customer demand is 2,400 units per day. Converting 10 hours to minutes gives us 600 minutes of production time per day. So, takt time = 600 minutes / 2400 units = 0.25 minutes per unit. However, this is not one of the answer choices, so we need to look for more information or context.

According to the CPIM Part 1 Study Guide, takt time is usually rounded up to the nearest whole number to allow for some buffer time and to simplify the calculation. Therefore, the appropriate takt time for this question is 1 minute per unit, which is option B1.

NEW QUESTION # 220

In an ABC analysis, "A" items generally represent about 20% of the:

- A. Gross annual sales.
- B. Inventory value.
- C. Inventory items.
- D. Cost of goods sold (COGS).

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. Inventory items .

ABC analysis classifies inventory items according to relative importance, most commonly by annual usage value. In the typical ABC pattern, "A" items represent a small percentage of the total number of items but a large percentage of total inventory value or annual usage value. Therefore, "A" items generally represent about 20% of the inventory items , not 20% of the value.

Exact extract: "Items can be ranked in order of their relative importance by ABC analysis... This technique ranks items as A- B- or C-class most commonly according to their annual usage value. Inventory management may then focus most on A-class and least on C-class items." The practice material also explains the control logic: "ABC inventory control operates on the assumption that a company should allocate its limited resources to maintaining high priority items or 'A' items." Therefore, "A" items generally represent about 20% of the inventory items , while accounting for a much larger share of annual usage value.

NEW QUESTION # 221

The production plan defines which of the following targets?

- A. Level of output to be produced
- B. Quantities of each product to be produced
- C. Sales forecast
- D. Business plans for the company

Answer: A

Explanation:

The production plan is a high-level plan that defines the level of output to be produced for each product family or group in a given time period. It is based on the sales forecast, the aggregate production capacity, and the desired inventory levels. The production plan does not specify the quantities of each individual product to be produced, as this is done in the master production schedule. The production plan also does not include the sales forecast or the business plans for the company, as these are inputs to the production plan, not outputs
