Databricks Certified Data Engineer Associate Exam Sample Questions (Q58-Q63):

NEW QUESTION # 58
Which of the following approaches should be used to send the Databricks Job owner an email in the case that the Job fails?

- A. Setting up an Alert in the Notebook
- B. Setting up an Alert in the Job page
- C. Manually programming in an alert system in each cell of the Notebook
- D. MLflow Model Registry Webhooks
- E. There is no way to notify the Job owner in the case of Job failure

Answer: B

Explanation:
To send the Databricks Job owner an email in the case that the Job fails, the best approach is to set up an Alert in the Job page. This way, the Job owner can configure the email address and the notification type for the Job failure event. The other options are either not feasible, not reliable, or not relevant for this task. Manually programming an alert system in each cell of the Notebook is tedious and error-prone. Setting up an Alert in the Notebook is not possible, as Alerts are only available for Jobs and Clusters. There is a way to notify the Job owner in the case of Job failure, so option D is incorrect. MLflow Model Registry Webhooks are used for model lifecycle events, not Job events, so option E is not applicable. References:
* Add email and system notifications for job events
* Alerts
* MLflow Model Registry Webhooks

NEW QUESTION # 59
A data engineer needs to create a table in Databricks using data from a CSV file at location /path/to/csv.
They run the following command:
Which of the following lines of code fills in the above blank to successfully complete the task?

- A. FROM "path/to/csv"
- B. USING CSV
- C. USING DELTA
- D. FROM CSV
- E. None of these lines of code are needed to successfully complete the task

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 60
A data engineer has realized that they made a mistake when making a daily update to a table. They need to use Delta time travel to restore the table to a version that is 3 days old. However, when the data engineer attempts to time travel to the older version, they are unable to restore the data because the data files have been deleted.
Which of the following explains why the data files are no longer present?

- A. The OPTIMIZE command was run on the table
- B. The DELETE HISTORY command was run on the table
- C. The TIME TRAVEL command was run on the table
- D. The VACUUM command was run on the table
- E. The HISTORY command was run on the table

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 61
Which of the following commands can be used to write data into a Delta table while avoiding the writing of duplicate records?

- A. MERGE
- B. IGNORE
- C. DROP
- D. INSERT
- E. APPEND

Answer: A

Explanation:
The MERGE command can be used to upsert data from a source table, view, or DataFrame into a target Delta table. It allows you to specify conditions for matching and updating existing records, and inserting new records when no match is found. This way, you can avoid writing duplicate records into a Delta table1. The other commands (DROP, IGNORE, APPEND, INSERT) do not have this functionality and may result in duplicate records or data loss234. Reference: 1: Upsert into a Delta Lake table using merge | Databricks on AWS 2: SQL DELETE | Databricks on AWS 3: SQL INSERT INTO | Databricks on AWS 4: SQL UPDATE | Databricks on AWS

NEW QUESTION # 62

A data engineer has developed a data pipeline to ingest data from a JSON source using Auto Loader, but the engineer has not provided any type inference or schema hints in their pipeline. Upon reviewing the data, the data engineer has noticed that all of the columns in the target table are of the string type despite some of the fields only including float or boolean values.

Which of the following describes why Auto Loader inferred all of the columns to be of the string type?

- A. Auto Loader only works with string data
- B. All of the fields had at least one null value
- C. JSON data is a text-based format
- D. There was a type mismatch between the specific schema and the inferred schema
- E. Auto Loader cannot infer the schema of ingested data

Answer: C
