AAPC Certified Professional Coder (CPC) Exam Sample Questions (Q420-Q425):

NEW QUESTION # 420

A patient who has HIV disease presents with loin pain in the clinic today. The patient reports he is having trouble sleeping due to the pain. What ICD-10-CM coding is reported?

- A. B20, M54.9
- B. B20, M54.50
- C. M54.50, B20
- D. M54.51, B20

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct ICD-10-CM coding for this patient is B20, M54.50. The first code, B20, is used for HIV disease, which is a confirmed diagnosis of HIV infection. It's important to note that this code can be used regardless of whether the patient is symptomatic or asymptomatic, as long as the patient has been diagnosed with HIV.

The second code, M54.50, refers to low back pain, which would be used to report the loin pain described by the patient. "Loin pain" typically refers to pain in the lower back area, and this code specifically covers the general category of low back pain not otherwise specified.

The other options are not as accurate:

- * A (B20, M54.9) includes a nonspecific code for back pain (M54.9), which does not fully specify the pain's location.
- * B (M54.51, B20) incorrectly includes a code for thoracic or lumbar radiculopathy (M54.51), which is not indicated here.
- * D (M54.50, B20) is similar to the correct answer, but it incorrectly lists the codes in reverse order. It is important to list the HIV diagnosis first in ICD-10-CM.

NEW QUESTION # 421

A cardiologist uses the hospital's equipment for a cardiac stress test as he doesn't own equipment for the test. He supervises the test and provides the interpretation and report of the test. What CPT codes are reported?

- A. 93016, 93017, 93018
- B. 93016, 93018
- C. 93015, 93016
- D. 93015, 93018

Answer: B

Explanation:

* Procedure: Cardiac stress test performed using hospital's equipment with the cardiologist providing supervision, interpretation, and report.

* CPT Codes:

* 93016: This code is for supervision only without provision of the equipment.

* 93018: This code is for interpretation and report only.

* Code Selection Justification: Since the cardiologist does not own the equipment, codes 93016 and 93018 correctly represent the supervision, interpretation, and report of the test.

NEW QUESTION # 422

An incision is made in the scalp, a craniectomy is performed to access the area where electrodes are present. The electrodes are removed. The surgical wound is closed. What procedure code is reported?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

Explanation:

The procedure described involves the removal of electrodes from the cranial area after making an incision in the scalp and performing a craniectomy.

* Procedure Description:

* Incision in the scalp.

* Craniectomy to access the area with electrodes.

* Removal of electrodes.

* Closure of the surgical wound.

* CPT Coding:

* 61860: Removal of intracranial neurostimulator electrodes, including burr hole(s) or craniectomy.

NEW QUESTION # 423

View MR 001394

MR 001394

Operative Report

Procedure: Excision of 11 cm back lesion with rotation flap repair.

Preoperative Diagnosis: Basal cell carcinoma

Postoperative Diagnosis: Same

Anesthesia: 1% Xylocaine solution with epinephrine warmed and buffered and injected slowly through a 30- gauge needle for the patient's comfort.

Location: Back

Size of Excision: 11 cm

Estimated Blood Loss: Minimal

Complications: None

Specimen: Sent to the lab in saline for frozen section margin control.

Procedure: The patient was taken to our surgical suite, placed in a comfortable position, prepped and draped, and locally anesthetized in the usual sterile fashion. A #15 scalpel blade was used to excise the basal cell carcinoma plus a margin of normal skin in a circular fashion in the natural relaxed skin tension lines as much as possible. The lesion was removed full thickness including epidermis, dermis, and partial thickness subcutaneous tissues. The wound was then spot electro desiccated for hemorrhage control. The specimen was sent to the lab on saline for frozen section.

Rotation flap repair of defect created by foil thickness frozen section excision of basal cell carcinoma of the back. We were able to devise a 12 sq cm flap and advance it using rotation flap closure technique. This will prevent infection, dehiscence, and help reconstruct the area to approximate the situation as it was prior to surgical excision diminishing the risk of significant pain and distortion of the anatomy in the area. This was advanced medially to close the defect with 5 0 Vicryl and 6-0 Prolene stitches.

What CPT coding is reported for this case?

- A. 14001, 11606-51
- B. 0
- C. 14001, 11606-51, 12034-51
- D. 1

Answer: A

Explanation:

For the excision of an 11 cm lesion with a rotation flap repair, the appropriate CPT codes are 14001 for the adjacent tissue transfer or rearrangement (12 sq cm flap) and 11606-51 for the excision of a malignant lesion including margins, face, ears, eyelids, nose, lips; excised diameter over 4.0 cm. Modifier 51 indicates multiple procedures. The detailed operative report specifies the lesion size and the technique used, justifying these codes. NEW QUESTION # 424

A witness of a traffic accident called 911. An ambulance with emergency basic life support arrived at the scene of the accident. The injured party was stabilized and taken to the hospital. What HCPCS Level II coding is reported for the ambulance's service?

- A. A0427-QM-HS
- B. A0428-QM-HS
- C. A0426-QN-SH
- D. A0429-QN-SH

Answer: D

Explanation:

The scenario describes an emergency basic life support (BLS) ambulance service. The appropriate HCPCS Level II code for BLS emergency transport is A0429.

Modifier QN indicates that the service was provided by an ambulance supplier, and SH indicates the services were provided in an emergency situation.

HCPCS Level II, current year
