Amazon AWS Certified Solutions Architect - Associate (SAA-C03) Sample Questions (Q418-Q423):

NEW QUESTION # 418
Your system recently experienced down time during the troubleshooting process. You found that a new administrator mistakenly terminated several production EC2 instances.
Which of the following strategies will help prevent a similar situation in the future?

The administrator still must be able to:
-launch, start stop, and terminate development resources.
launch and start production instances.

- A. Create an IAM user, which is not allowed to terminate instances by leveraging production EC2 termination protection.
- B. Create an IAM user and apply an IAM role which prevents users from terminating production EC2 instances.
- C. Leverage resource based tagging along with an IAM user, which can prevent specific users from terminating production EC2 resources.
- D. Leverage EC2 termination protection and multi-factor authentication, which together require users to authenticate before terminating EC2 instances

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 419
The financial application at a company stores monthly reports in an Amazon S3 bucket. The vice president of finance has mandated that all access to these reports be logged and that any modifications to the log files be detected.
Which actions can a solutions architect take to meet these requirements?

- A. Use AWS CloudTrail to create a new trail. Configure the trail to log read and write data events on the S3 bucket that houses the reports. Log these events to a new bucket, and enable log file validation.
- B. Use AWS CloudTrail to create a new trail. Configure the trail to log read and write management events on the S3 bucket that houses the reports. Log these events to a new bucket, and enable log file validation.
- C. Use S3 server access logging on the bucket that houses the reports with the read and write data events and log file validation options enabled.
- D. Use S3 server access logging on the bucket that houses the reports with the read and write management events and log file validation options enabled.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 420
A company is designing a new web service that will run on Amazon EC2 instances behind an Elastic Load Balancing (ELB) load balancer. However, many of the web service clients can only reach IP addresses authorized on their firewalls.
What should a solutions architect recommend to meet the clients' needs?

- A. An EC2 instance with a public IP address running as a proxy in front of the load balancer.
- B. A Network Load Balancer with an associated Elastic IP address.
- C. An Application Load Balancer with an associated Elastic IP address.
- D. An A record in an Amazon Route 53 hosted zone pointing to an Elastic IP address.

Answer: B

Explanation:
A Network Load Balancer can be assigned one Elastic IP address for each Availability Zone it uses1. This allows the clients to reach the load balancer using a static IP address that can be authorized on their firewalls. An Application Load Balancer cannot be assigned an Elastic IP address2. An A record in an Amazon Route 53 hosted zone pointing to an Elastic IP address would not work because the load balancer would still use its own IP address as the source of the forwarded requests to the web service. An EC2 instance with a public IP address running as a proxy in front of the load balancer would add unnecessary complexity and cost, and would not provide the same scalability and availability as a Network Load Balancer. NEW QUESTION # 421
You have a load balancer configured for VPC, and all back-end Amazon EC2 instances are in service. However, your web browser times out when connecting to the load balancer's DNS name. Which options are probable causes of this behavior? Choose

2 answers

- A. The Amazon EC2 instances do not have a dynamically allocated private IP address
- B. The load balancer is not configured in a private subnet with a NAT instance.
- C. The security groups or network ACLs are not property configured for web traffic.
- D. The VPC does not have a VGW configured.
- E. The load balancer was not configured to use a public subnet with an Internet gateway configured

Answer: C,E

NEW QUESTION # 422

A company recently migrated to AWS and wants to implement a solution to protect the traffic that flows in and out of the production VPC. The company had an inspection server in its on-premises data center. The inspection server performed specific operations such as traffic flow inspection and traffic filtering. The company wants to have the same functionalities in the AWS Cloud.
Which solution will meet these requirements?

- A. Use Amazon GuardDuty for traffic inspection and traffic filtering in the production VPC
- B. Use Traffic Mirroring to mirror traffic from the production VPC for traffic inspection and filtering.
- C. Use AWS Network Firewall to create the required rules for traffic inspection and traffic filtering for the production VPC.
- D. Use AWS Firewall Manager to create the required rules for traffic inspection and traffic filtering for the production VPC.

Answer: C
