- A. Scheduled Automation using a Send Activity
- B. Scheduled Automation utilizing Triggered Send Emails

NEW QUESTION # 78

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) stores customer purchase data in an external system. NTO ingests this data into Marketing Cloud through a file drop automation. The automation contains an import activity which overwrites a staging data extension, as well as an SQL Query activity which brings this data into a sendable data extension.

NTO's marketing manager wants to be informed if more than 1,000 records are ever imported through this automation, and would also like to prevent the sendable data extension from being updated that day.

Which solution is appropriate in this situation?

- A. Write a custom SSJS script to
- B. validate the row count of the staging data extension and send a notification email.
- C. Implement a Wait Activity to wait until the data extension is populated with records.
- D. Place a Verification Activity between the import and SQL Query activity.
- E. Split the existing activities into two separate automations.

Answer: D

Explanation:

To inform NTO's marketing manager if more than 1,000 records are ever imported through this automation, and prevent the sendable data extension from being updated that day, the consultant should place a Verification Activity between the import and SQL Query activity. A Verification Activity is an activity that allows marketers to verify if certain conditions are met before proceeding with the next activity in an automation. For example, a Verification Activity can check if the number of records in a data extension is above or below a specified threshold, and send an email notification or stop the automation based on the result.
