Salesforce Certified B2B Solution Architect Exam Sample Questions (Q56-Q61):

NEW QUESTION # 56

Universal Containers (UC) is about to complete the first phase of its digital transformation with its new Lead to Invoice process that incorporates several clouds like Sales Cloud, Service Cloud, Revenue Cloud, Experience Cloud, and MuleSoft. UC is now creating a Center of Excellence and focusing on a purely Agile methodology for working on new releases. UC wants to understand some of the considerations around release planning.

What are two recommendations a Solution Architect should make to ensure UC's releases to production work within its release schedule and there are no delays in future releases?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Utilize the last sprint to include functionality that was missed from previous sprints.
- B. Use the last sprint of the release to stabilize it and eliminate identified issues.
- C. Fix the scope of the sprint during release planning regardless of how long it takes.
- D. Create a regular sprint cadence across the different teams to demonstrate new functionality.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

For UC's digital transformation and adoption of Agile methodology, ensuring smooth and timely releases is crucial. The recommended practices are:

B) Create a regular sprint cadence across the different teams to demonstrate new functionality. Establishing a consistent rhythm for sprints helps align team efforts, ensures regular progress reviews, and facilitates the integration of new features. It fosters collaboration and keeps the project on track.

C) Use the last sprint of the release to stabilize it and eliminate identified issues. Dedicating the final sprint to stabilization and issue resolution is a best practice in Agile methodologies. It allows the team to focus on quality assurance, performance testing, and user feedback, ensuring that the release is robust and meets user expectations.

Salesforce and Agile methodology guides, such as those found on Salesforce Trailhead and in Agile development literature, emphasize the importance of regular cadences and stabilization phases for successful project delivery and continuous improvement.

NEW QUESTION # 57

Universal Containers (UC) is about to develop a new call center solution utilizing Salesforce products including Service Cloud, LiveMessage, Experience Cloud, and MuleSoft. UC would prefer no real customer data to be stored within Salesforce but to be made view only. These views should only be utilized by a select few individuals that may be assigned the ability to view this data temporarily and have it removed.

Which two features should a Solution Architect suggest to maintain these constraints?

- A. Third-party ETL, Profiles
- B. Salesforce Connect, User Profiles
- C. Apex Callouts, User Permissions Sets
- D. Salesforce Connect, User Permission Sets

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 58

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) is currently using Salesforce CPQ and would like to implement B2B Commerce Classes. NTO uses a Partner Community to allow partners to build complex bundles to provide detailed quotes to clients. NTO also wants to ensure that it does not have to maintain two databases of products.

Which two considerations should a Solution Architect keep in mind about the CPQ B2B Commerce Connector when synchronizing Product and Price data?

Choose 2 answers

- A. The connector does not support syncing complex CPQ bundles.
- B. The connector is a two-way sync for product and pricing logic.
- C. Discount schedules from CPQ will sync to discounts and promotions in B2B Commerce Classic

- D. The connector lets you sync simple products with a flat price.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

When synchronizing product and price data between Salesforce CPQ and B2B Commerce using the CPQ B2B Commerce Connector, it's important to understand its capabilities and limitations. The connector is designed to sync simple products with straightforward pricing structures, but it does not support the synchronization of complex CPQ bundles that involve multiple components and pricing rules. This limitation requires careful planning around product catalog management and may necessitate custom solutions or workarounds for complex product offerings, aligning with Salesforce's documentation and best practices for using the CPQ B2B Commerce Connector.

NEW QUESTION # 59

Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) is running a multi-cloud Salesforce implementation with lots of process integration between the clouds and other systems. During the project, NTO faces many challenges including a lack of agility and business value alignment, as well as silo-thinking. After trying different approaches, NTO begins to use Agile and is successful. The project manager now wonders what the recommended operating model would look like.

What should be a Solution Architect's first recommendation?

- A. NTO should establish a Scaled Agile Center of Excellence to continuously improve agility and time to market.
- B. NTO should set up an Operations team within IT to ensure proper management of the integrations going forward.
- C. NTO should set up a model of continuous backlog with teams aligned to the different clouds to drive efficiency and team collaboration.
- D. NTO should set up a model of continuous backlog with teams aligned to the different products (capabilities) to improve efficiency.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A Scaled Agile Center of Excellence (LACE) is a small team of people dedicated to implementing the SAFe Lean-Agile way of working¹. A LACE can be used to gather information, lead change, share best practices, and keep people on the same page as the organization moves forward². A LACE is a cornerstone of successful transformations because it encourages continuity and manages expectations³.

By establishing a LACE, NTO can leverage the benefits of agile at scale, such as faster delivery, higher quality, lower costs, and happier customers³¹. A LACE can also help NTO overcome the challenges of silo-thinking and lack of alignment by fostering collaboration and communication across different teams and systems²¹.

NEW QUESTION # 60

A team at Universal Containers (UC) is currently working on an initial release of Service Cloud. However, UC's management team is very enthusiastic about new features of the platform and wants to go to market with the new Service Cloud solution as soon as possible. The current objective of their initial Service Cloud release is mostly about managing their case workload and case assignment processes. A Solution Architect is called into a management meeting and asked when UC can go live with automated chatbots, Einstein case classification, and CRM Analytics for data insights.

How should a Solution Architect respond to the management team considering their request for these new capabilities¹?

- A. Agree with the management team to postpone the go-live and increase the scope to include the desired features.
- B. Explain to the management team that these features are still evolving and that it is best to wait a few releases so that they are stable before starting to use them in production.
- C. Agree that the new features are crucial to the success of the initiative and swap parts of the current scope for the most innovative feature.
- D. Explain the long-term vision and roadmap, and then propose a logical phasing in which the planned minimum viable product (MVP) is the first step on the journey that will eventually include the desired features.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explaining the long-term vision and roadmap, and then proposing a logical phasing in which the planned minimum viable product (MVP) is the first step on the journey that will eventually include the desired features². This option can help UC align their expectations with their business goals and priorities, while also demonstrating how they can achieve incremental value from their Service Cloud solution over time. The Solution Architect can also highlight the benefits of delivering an MVP first, such as validating assumptions, testing functionality, gathering feedback, and reducing risks.
