Appian Senior Developer Sample Questions (Q43-Q48):

NEW QUESTION # 43

Your client wants their customers to be able to schedule appointments directly from their website without going to an Appian user environment.

You need to build an embedded interface to be added to your client's web page. The style of the embedded interface should be consistent with the host web page.

Which three custom styling options can be configured in the Themes section of embedded interfaces?

(Choose three.)

- A. Asymmetrical layout
- B. Page background color
- C. Font Family
- D. Two or three column layout
- E. Web font stylesheet URL

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

Page background color - You can customize the background color to match the host webpage's theme.

Font family - You can set the font family to ensure the embedded interface aligns with the client's branding.

Web font stylesheet URL - This allows the use of custom web fonts, further aligning the style with the host site.

NEW QUESTION # 44

You're developing a user input form for a financial services application.

One component of this form requires you to embed an external site (in the form of a URL) that can receive inputs from Appian and return updates as the user interacts with it.

What should you do?

- A. Use the Appian out-of-the-box Web Content Component. It can display content from a URL and provide both additional inputs, or receive updates as the user interacts with the embedded site.
- B. Use a component plug-in to achieve interaction with the embedded site, because this use case requires input-output or event parameters.
- C. Use an integration to achieve interaction with the embedded site while displaying information in the Appian out-of-the-box Web Content Component. That way you can refresh for updates and interact with the site.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A component plug-in is required because the standard Web Content Component in Appian only displays external sites and does not support direct two-way interaction or input/output event handling. A plug-in enables custom integration to allow input and receive updates as users interact with the embedded site.

NEW QUESTION # 45

A process was recently pushed to the Prod environment. However, users are reporting that a task on this process is experiencing slow response times when they try to input data.

What is the most likely reason for this issue?

- A. Exception timers on tasks are set to values that are too low.
- B. There are too many SAIL components on the task.
- C. The task is assigned to too many users.
- D. The process uses too many hidden variables.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Having too many SAIL components on the task can cause slow response times for users, as the interface may take longer to render and process inputs, impacting performance.

NEW QUESTION # 46

An application consists of a record type with sync enabled. This record type is used as a source to create a read-only grid. A field "Number of days since created" is configured in the interface and a logic is implemented to calculate the number of days since a record is created in the application.

You need to implement sorting on this field.

What should you do?

- A. Add sortField: "Number of days since created" configuration for the gridColumn that needs to be sorted.
- B. Sorting is not possible on custom record type fields. Instead, create a view with a custom field and use the field from the view for sorting.
- C. Create a custom record type field and use it in the sorting configuration.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Creating a custom record type field to calculate "Number of days since created" allows you to use this field in the sorting configuration of your read-only grid.

NEW QUESTION # 47

Which two items are configured in the Admin Console when you create a web API? (Choose two.)
