Salesforce Administer, Extend, and Automate Salesforce Sample Questions (Q221-Q226):

NEW QUESTION # 221
Ursa Major Solar uses the custom object Product Development to track Ideas R&D is wording on. A former administrator added the custom object Potential Name with a lookup to Product Development to allow R&D to track names under consideration for those product. The R&D manager recently ran a record and noticed several potential names where the relationship to the Product Development record was missing. The current administrator needs to change this relationship to master detail to ensure a potential name only exists when there is product development.
Which two options are available for altering the existing Potential Name records for the deployment of this change to be successful? Choose 2 answers

- A. Assign any Potential Name records with blank lookup fields to an existing record from Product Development.
- B. Remove any existing data in the lookup field n Potential Name records
- C. Move any Potential Name records with blank lookup fields to the recycle bin.
- D. Remove the lookup field from the page layout so the data is maintained without changes.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:
Move any Potential Name records with blank lookup fields to the recycle bin or assign any Potential Name records with blank lookup fields to an existing record from Product Development are two options available for altering the existing Potential Name records for the deployment of this change to be successful. Changing a lookup relationship to a master-detail relationship requires that all child records have a parent record. Therefore, any Potential Name records that have blank lookup fields to Product Development need to be either deleted or assigned to a valid Product Development record before changing the relationship type

NEW QUESTION # 222
Sales reps at AW Computing hove been reporting that contact phone numbers sometimes revert book to on old value after being updated.
What should the administrator do to resolve this issue?

- A. Delete all workflow rules.
- B. Schedule Apex jobs.
- C. Add an invocable process.
- D. Consolidate automation tools.

Answer: D

Explanation:
One possible cause of unexpected changes to record values is having multiple automation tools that update the same field on the same object. This can create conflicts and overwrite each other's values. To resolve this issue, the administrator should consolidate automation tools and use only one tool per object and field combination. This can help avoid confusion and ensure consistent results.

NEW QUESTION # 223

A user is getting an error when attempting to merge two accounts. The administrator checks the profile to see the user has Read/Write permission on Accounts and is the owner of both records.

What is preventing the user from completing the merge?

- A. Only administrators have permission to merge records.
- B. The Delete permission is missing on the user for Accounts.
- C. The user is assigned to the wrong territory.
- D. The Account matching rules are not set.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 224

An administrator created two record types on the Account object: Internal Customers and External Customers. A custom profile called Sales has the External Customers record type assigned. The sharing rules for Accounts arm set to Public Read Only. On occasion. Sales users notice that an Account record has the wrong record type assigned. The administrator has created a screen flow that will change the record type on the user's behalf.

What will happen to the Sales user's record access after running this flow?

- A. A new record owner will be assigned.
- B. Read access will be lost to the record.
- C. Edit access will be lost to the record.
- D. Record Access remains the same.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Changing the record type of a record does not affect the record access of a user. Record access is determined by the organization-wide default, role hierarchy, sharing rules, manual sharing, teams, and ownership. Record type only affects the page layout and picklist values that are available for the record. Therefore, if a user has access to a record before changing its record type, they will still have the same access after changing its record type.
