NEW QUESTION # 13

A human resources officer is using AI to evaluate resumes and help select candidates that meet minimum criteria. To improve the results, the human resources officer adjusts the query parameters and includes an example resume that matches a successful candidate. Which if the following best describes this query?

- A. Distillation
- B. One-shot prompting
- C. Prompt template
- D. System role

Answer: B

Explanation:
One-shot prompting provides the model with a single example (in this case, a successful resume) to guide how it should process future inputs. This technique helps the AI better align its output with the desired evaluation criteria.

NEW QUESTION # 14
An organization recently developed an AI-powered product and discovers that it is vulnerable to attacks in which malicious actors can alter the input, causing the system to recommend inappropriate information. Which of the following techniques is the most effective way to secure the system against manipulation attacks?

- A. Feature scaling
- B. Guardrails
- C. Cross-validation
- D. Feature regularization

Answer: B

Explanation:
Guardrails restrict and control how an AI model processes and responds to inputs, making them the most effective defense against manipulation attacks such as prompt injection or malicious input alteration.

NEW QUESTION # 15
A recently deployed AI system becomes persistently unavailable. A restart temporarily fixes the issue, but the issue happens again. Upon examination of application programming interface (API) logs, an analyst finds that external calls continued to use system resources after the action completed.
Which of the following is the best way to improve availability of the system?

- A. Increasing system memory
- B. Creating token limits
- C. Enforcing session expiration
- D. Implementing multifactor authentication (MFA)

Answer: C

Explanation:
The persistent unavailability is caused by external calls consuming resources even after completion, indicating sessions are not being closed. Enforcing session expiration ensures unused sessions are terminated, freeing resources and improving system availability.
