NEW QUESTION # 122

Universal Containers (UC) has recently acquired other companies that have their own Salesforce orgs. These companies have been merged as new UC business units.

The CEO has requested an architect to review the org strategy, taking into consideration two main factors:

- * The CEO wants business process standardization among all business units.
- * Business process integration is not required as the different business units have different customers and expertise.

Which org strategy should the architect recommend in this scenario, and why?

- A. Multi-org strategy, as it is uncommon for the diversified business units to get used to working in the same space as the other business units.
- B. Single-org strategy, as the high level of business process standardization will be easier to implement in a single org.
- C. A Multi-org strategy, as they could deploy a common managed package into the orgs of the different business units.
- D. Single-org strategy, as costs increase as the number of orgs go up.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 123

Universal Containers has automated its deployment process using Metadata API. However, they found that Metadata API doesn't support all the components yet. What should be done to address this?

- A. Use the force.com IDE for deploying the unsupported components.
- B. Use AppExchange products to deploy unsupported components.
- C. Use change sets for deploying all the unsupported components.
- D. Deploy unsupported components manually before/after deployment.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 124

Universal Containers has many development teams deploying into a single org. The business is very seasonal and approaching its busiest season. The business owner comes to you asking for your advice about its next major production release.

What best practice should an architect recommend?

- A. Bypass regression testing for minor changes.
- B. Make declarative changes in production only.
- C. Avoid releasing near peak business periods.
