VMware Advanced VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Operation Sample Questions (Q195-Q200):

NEW QUESTION # 195

A capacity planner needs to model the impact of adding 200 VMs, but does not want to manually type the specifications (vCPU, RAM, Disk) for every single VM. The planner has a spreadsheet containing the VM list.

Which method allows the planner to bulk-import this demand profile into the What-If Analysis?

- A. Use the "vRealize Orchestrator" plugin to inject the data.
- B. Copy and paste the cells into the "VM Name" search box.
- C. Use the "Import" button in the Workload Planning screen to upload a CSV file containing the VM definitions (Name, vCPU, RAM, Storage).
- D. It is not possible; profiles must be defined manually or by selecting existing VMs as templates.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 196

When configuring a new integration, the administrator sees a field labeled "Collector / Group".

Scenario

Target: High-Security vCenter (Isolated Network)

Collector Options:

1. Default Collector Group (Shared)
2. Cloud-Proxy-Secure-01 (Dedicated to Isolated Net)

What is the impact of selecting "Cloud-Proxy-Secure-01" for this integration?

- A. It automatically encrypts the vCenter database.
- B. It restricts the integration to only collect data from objects named "Secure".
- C. It pins the data collection traffic for this specific vCenter to flow exclusively through Cloud-Proxy- Secure-01, ensuring connectivity rules (Isolated Net -> Proxy -> Analytics) are respected.
- D. It forces the VCF Operations Analytics nodes to bypass the proxy and talk directly to the vCenter.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 197

An organization has a policy that "Powered Off VMs" should only be deleted if they have been powered off for more than 30 days. VCF Operations is currently recommending deletion after only 7 days.

How does the administrator align the tool with the corporate policy?

- A. Create a Super Metric to calculate the age.
- B. Change the "History Retention" to 30 days.
- C. Manually ignore the recommendations for 3 weeks.
- D. Edit the Policy used by the environment, navigate to Reclaimable Capacity -> Powered Off VMs, and change the "Powered Off Since" parameter to 30 Days.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 198

A Cloud Admin is reviewing the data collection status for a large vSAN cluster. The "Collection Interval" for the vCenter Adapter is set to the default value.

Adapter Configuration

Name: VC-Adapter-SFO

Collection Interval: 5 minutes

Observation

A critical vSAN latency spike occurred at 10:02 AM.

The VCF Operations dashboard shows data points at 10:00 AM and 10:05 AM, but missed the peak spike at 10:02 AM.

What is the architectural explanation for this visibility gap?

- A. VCF Operations collects metrics as point-in-time snapshots based on the defined interval (5 mins); it does not stream continuous real-time data, so transient spikes between intervals may be averaged out or missed.
- B. vSAN metrics are only collected once every 60 minutes by design to save storage.
- C. The "Real-Time" button in the dashboard was not clicked.
- D. The Cloud Proxy was rebooting during the spike.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 199

An adapter instance stays in the "Warning" state. The hover-text error message states: "Collection cycle time exceeded".

What does this specific error imply about the health of the integration?

- A. The target system is too large (too many objects) or responding too slowly, causing the data collection to take longer than the configured interval (e.g., taking 7 minutes to complete a 5-minute poll). This leads to gaps in data.
- B. The adapter is in Maintenance Mode.
- C. The credentials are about to expire.
- D. The network has high packet loss.

Answer: A
