The following conditions exist within its system:

- NTO has a total of five million customers.
- Duplicate records exist, which is replicated across many systems, including Salesforce.
- Given these conditions, there is a lack of consistent presentation and clear identification of a customer record.

Which three option should a data architect perform to resolve the issues with the customer data?

- A. Use Salesforce CDC to sync customer data cross all systems to keep customer record in sync.
- B. Duplicate customer records across the system and provide a two-way sync of data between the systems.
- C. Create a customer master database external to Salesforce as a system of truth and sync the customer data with all systems.
- D. Create a unique global customer ID for each customer and store that in all system for referential identity.
- E. Invest in data duplicate tool to de-dupe and merge duplicate records across all systems.

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:

Creating a unique global customer ID for each customer and storing that in all systems for referential identity (option A), investing in a data duplicate tool to de-dupe and merge duplicate records across all systems (option C), and creating a customer master database external to Salesforce as a system of truth and syncing the customer data with all systems (option E) are the three options that a data architect should perform to resolve the issues with the customer data.

Option A ensures that each customer can be uniquely identified across different systems, option C eliminates duplicate records and improves data quality, and option E provides a consistent and reliable source of customer data for all systems.

NEW QUESTION # 116

DreamHouse Realty has a Salesforce org that is used to manage Contacts. What are two things an Architect should consider using to maintain data quality in this situation? (Choose two.)

- A. Use validation rules on new record create and edit.
- B. Use workflow to delete duplicate records.
- C. Use Salesforce duplicate management.
- D. Use the private sharing model.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Using Salesforce duplicate management and using validation rules on new record create and edit are two things that an architect should consider using to maintain data quality for managing Contacts. Salesforce duplicate management allows the architect to create matching rules and duplicate rules to identify, prevent, or allow duplicate records based on various criteria. Validation rules allow the architect to enforce data quality standards and business logic by displaying error messages when users try to save invalid data. The other options are not relevant or helpful for maintaining data quality.

NEW QUESTION # 117

NTO uses Salesforce to manage relationships and track sales opportunities. It has 10 million customers and 100 million opportunities. The CEO has been complaining 10 minutes to run and sometimes failed to load, throwing a time out error. Which 3 options should help improve the dashboard performance? Choose 3 answer

- A. Remove widgets from the dashboard to reduce the number of graphics loaded.
- B. De-normalize the data by reducing the number of joins.
- C. Reduce the amount of data queried by archiving unused opportunity records.
- D. Use selective queries to reduce the amount of data being returned.
- E. Run the dashboard for CEO and send it via email.

Answer: B,C,D

Explanation:

To improve the dashboard performance, the data architect should use selective queries to reduce the amount of data being returned, de-normalize the data by reducing the number of joins, and reduce the amount of data queried by archiving unused opportunity records. These options will help optimize the query performance, reduce the query complexity, and free up storage space.

NEW QUESTION # 118

Ursa Major Solar has defined a new Data Quality Plan for their Salesforce data. Which two approaches should an Architect recommend to enforce the plan throughout the organization?

(Choose two.)

- A. Schedule a weekly dashboard displaying records that are missing information to be sent to managers for review.
- B. Enforce critical business processes by using Workflow, Validation Rules, and Apex code.
- C. Ensure all data is stored in an external system and set up an integration to Salesforce for view- only access.
- D. Schedule reports that will automatically catch duplicates and merge or delete the records every week.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Enforcing critical business processes by using Workflow, Validation Rules, and Apex code can help ensure data quality and consistency by applying rules and logic to the data entry and update.

Scheduling a weekly dashboard displaying records that are missing information to be sent to managers for review can help identify and fix data quality issues by providing visibility and accountability.
