CIPS Managing Ethical Procurement and Supply (L5M5) Sample Questions (Q81-Q86):

NEW QUESTION # 81

Charlie is 13 years old and sometimes helps his parents in their corner shop on weekends, while attending school during the week. Is this an example of child labour?

- A. No - Charlie is old enough not to be a child
- B. Yes - any work by under 16s is child labour
- C. Yes - Charlie should report his parents to the police
- D. No - helping in a family business does not count as child labour

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of Documents:

The ILO defines child labour as work that deprives children of their childhood, education, or well-being. According to the L5M5 study guide (p.252), light work, such as assisting in a family business outside school hours, is not considered child labour if it does not interfere with education or harm physical and mental health. Charlie is attending school, completing homework, and only helping part-time in a family-owned shop. Therefore, this is not classified as child labour. The ILO guidelines make clear distinctions between exploitative labour (such as sweatshops or hazardous industries) and permissible family assistance.

NEW QUESTION # 82

As a procurement manager with a focus on sustainability, your objective is to develop KPIs that assess the environmental impact of your suppliers and demonstrate their commitment to eco-friendly practices. What key performance indicators would be most effective in measuring these impacts?

- A. The percentage of shipments that are damaged during transit
- B. The ratio of recycled materials used in production versus virgin materials
- C. The average response time to customer complaints
- D. The total number of products the supplier offers

Answer: B

Explanation:

Choice A- This KPI directly measures the supplier's commitment to sustainability and their environmental impact by indicating how much they are utilizing recycled resources compared to new materials. The other options do not effectively reflect environmental practices.

Incorrect answer:

Choice B- This KPI measures the breadth of the supplier's offerings but does not provide any insight into their environmental practices or sustainability. A supplier could offer many products without any of them being eco-friendly.

Choice C- While important for customer service and supplier responsiveness, this KPI does not relate to environmental impact. A fast response time does not necessarily mean that the supplier is following sustainable practices.

Choice D- This metric focuses on logistics and supply chain efficiency rather than environmental sustainability. Although reducing damaged shipments can have some indirect environmental benefits, it doesn't directly measure the supplier's environmental practices or commitment to sustainability.

Which of the following is NOT a reason for supply chain mapping?

- A. Gathering quality data through audits
- B. Identifying potential risks and vulnerabilities
- C. Eliminating the need for supplier relationship management

Answer: C

Explanation:

Supply chain mapping aims to identify risks, improve visibility, and ensure compliance, among other benefits. However, it does not eliminate the need for managing supplier relationships; in fact, it often enhances the ability to manage those relationships effectively.
