Relativity Certified Administrator Sample Questions (Q53-Q58):

NEW QUESTION # 53

What do you need to do to ensure you produce only non-redacted text?

- A. Add the Extracted Text field as the first field in the Text Precedence window.
- B. Add the OCR text field as the first field in the Text Precedence window.
- C. Add the OCR text field to the exported field list.
- D. Add the Extracted Text field to the exported field list.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is B. Add the OCR text field as the first field in the Text Precedence window.

Relativity's OCR-on-redacted-production guidance explains that to produce only non-redacted text, you must use Text Precedence during export, and it specifically warns not to add the Extracted Text field to the exported field list because doing so can result in producing redacted text. It also explains that production export can use ordered text fields so Relativity pulls text from the highest-priority populated field.

In this workflow, the OCR text generated from the redacted production images is the field that reflects the redacted-visible text appropriately for export. By placing the OCR text field first in Text Precedence, Relativity uses that OCR-derived text before falling back to other long-text fields. Option A is incorrect because prioritizing Extracted Text risks exporting the original underlying text rather than the intended redacted-visible text. Options C and D are also incorrect because the guidance is to control output through Text Precedence, not by simply adding those fields to the exported field list; in fact, Relativity explicitly warns against adding Extracted Text to the exported list for this use case. Therefore, the correct step is to put the OCR text field first in Text Precedence.

NEW QUESTION # 54

What is a possible expected application installation error and solution?

- A. Installation Errors: Modify the application.
- B. Restricted file type: Run a re-install.
- C. Locking conflicts: Applications cannot be unlocked.
- D. Name conflicts: Rename or map Fields.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is B. Name conflicts: Rename or map Fields. Relativity's Troubleshooting application installation errors documentation explains that for Name conflicts, the available resolution options include Rename and Map Field. The page specifically instructs admins to use the Resolve Errors drop-down and choose either Rename or Map Field to address the conflicting artifact during application installation.

The other choices are inconsistent with the documentation. For locking conflicts, Relativity says you can resolve them by selecting the Unlock checkbox, so option A is incorrect. For restricted file types, the documented resolution is to remove the external resource from the application and re-install, not simply "run a re-install," so option D is incomplete and inaccurate. Option C is also too vague and not one of the documented named error-resolution pairings. Therefore, the correct expected application installation error and solution is Name conflicts: Rename or map Fields

NEW QUESTION # 55

How can you secure a workspace from a user?

- A. By individually securing instance-level views from a user.
- B. By excluding the workspace name from a user's profile settings.
- C. By removing that user's security group from the workspace.
- D. By changing the security settings of the user's IP address.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is A. By removing that user's security group from the workspace. In Relativity, workspace access is granted through groups, not by attaching workspace rights directly to individual users.

Relativity's official security documentation explains that you set permissions by adding groups to a workspace and configuring those group permissions there. Users then inherit access through their group memberships. As a result, the standard way to secure a workspace from a user is to remove the group that gives that user access, or remove the user from the relevant group.

The other options do not reflect how Relativity security is structured. User profile settings do not control workspace visibility in the manner described. IP-based security is not the mechanism for ordinary workspace access control in this scenario. Instance-level view security is also too narrow and does not remove the user's overall workspace access; even if certain views were restricted, the user could still potentially access the workspace through other permitted objects or tabs. From an RCA perspective, this question tests a foundational principle: workspace security is group-based. Administrators grant or revoke access by managing the relationship between groups and workspaces, then managing which users belong to those groups. Therefore, to secure a workspace from a user, the correct action is to remove the user's access-granting security group from that workspace.

NEW QUESTION # 56

How can you ensure a video will be synced to a transcript?

- A. The video and text files must be uploaded separately and synced through a mass action.
- B. The video must be synced to one .MP4 video and uploaded at the same time.
- C. Import the video file as part of the larger .pst.
- D. Videos cannot be synced to a transcript.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. The video must be synced to one .MP4 video and uploaded at the same time.

Relativity's official Transcripts application documentation explicitly states that the video can be played in the Viewer in sync with the text of the transcript, and further notes: you must import videos at the same time you are uploading transcripts or the video and transcript cannot sync. The documentation also describes uploading the video as an .mp4 alongside the transcript during the transcript upload workflow.

This directly eliminates the other options. Option A is false because Relativity clearly supports synced transcript video playback. Option B is wrong because this is not a PST-based workflow. Option D is also incorrect because the documentation does not describe a later mass action that separately syncs already uploaded video and text files; instead, the sync relationship is established during the same upload process.

Relativity even distinguishes that videos are not stored as normal documents in the document list, but rather as a file field within a transcript, reinforcing that the transcript upload workflow is the correct path.

From a case administration standpoint, this is important because transcript/video synchronization affects deposition and interview review usability. To ensure successful synchronization, the transcript and its associated .mp4 video must be uploaded together. Therefore, the correct answer is C.

NEW QUESTION # 57

Which of these dtSearch queries would cause a syntax error on a search terms report STR?

- A. dog and not cat
- B. dog not cat
- C. dog or not cat
- D. dog or cat

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is B. dog not cat. Relativity's dtSearch syntax guidance explains that the NOT operator can be used by itself at the beginning of an expression, or in the middle of an expression only when combined with either AND or OR. Relativity gives examples such as apple OR NOT pear and applesauce and NOT pear as valid syntax. That means expressions like dog OR NOT cat and dog AND NOT cat are valid, while dog NOT cat is missing the required connector and therefore causes a syntax problem. Relativity's Search Terms Report error documentation further explains that STRs surface syntax errors when the search index cannot process the term because of invalid syntax. In this case, dog not cat violates the dtSearch operator rule, so it is the option most clearly expected to fail with a syntax error in a search terms report. Option A is a standard Boolean expression and is valid. Options C and D both include the required connector before NOT, which matches Relativity's documented dtSearch usage. Therefore, among the listed queries, dog not cat is the one that would cause a syntax error on an STR.
