NEW QUESTION # 22

Refer to the exhibits.

The image shows two screenshots of FortiGate configuration commands. The top screenshot is titled "FortiGate VLAN AP settings" and shows the configuration for an interface named "APs". The bottom screenshot is titled "DHCP configuration" and shows the configuration for a DHCP server on the "APs" interface.

config system interface edit "APs"
    set vdom "root"
    set ip 10.10.100.254 255.255.255.0

A FortiSwitch is successfully managed by a FortiGate. FortiAP is connected to port1 of the managed FortiSwitch. On FortiGate, the VLAN AP is configured to detect and manage FortiAP, along with a DHCP server for the VLAN AP. Additionally, the VLAN AP is assigned to port1 of FortiSwitch. However, FortiGate is unable to detect or manage FortiAP.

Which FortiGate misconfiguration is preventing the detection of FortiAP?

- A. The FortiAP firmware is incompatible with the FortiGate firmware version.
- B. The CAPWAP ports (UDP 5246 and 5247) are not open on FortiGate.
- C. Security Fabric is disabled in the administrative access options of the VLAN.
- D. The VLAN is not tagged correctly on the FortiSwitch uplink port.

Answer: C

Explanation:

From the exhibits:

* Interface "APs" is a VLAN sub-interface on fortilink with IP 10.10.100.254/24 and a DHCP server scope 10.10.100.1-10.10.100.253.

* This VLAN is assigned to port1 on the managed FortiSwitch for FortiAPs.

* The interface config shows only allow access ping - Security Fabric Connection is not enabled.

In LAN Edge designs, FortiAPs connected through FortiSwitch are discovered and managed as LAN edge devices of the Security Fabric. FortiOS documentation states that FortiAPs and FortiSwitches appear in the Fabric topology only when connected on an interface with Security Fabric Connection enabled.

If the VLAN/AP management interface lacks Security Fabric Connection:

* FortiGate does not treat that network as a fabric connection segment.

* CAPWAP discovery from FortiAPs on that VLAN will not result in the AP being onboarded and shown for management.

Therefore the key misconfiguration is:

#A - Security Fabric is disabled on the VLAN interface used for AP management.

Why the others are not the root cause:

* B. Firmware incompatibility - would usually show as a "Managed (upgrade required)" or similar status after discovery, not complete non-detection. The scenario specifically points to a configuration issue, not firmware.

* C. VLAN not tagged correctly on uplink - The FortiSwitch uplink to FortiGate is the FortiLink trunk, and the VLAN sub-interface APs is already bound to fortilink, so tagging on the uplink is correct by definition.

* D. CAPWAP ports not open - CAPWAP (UDP 5246/5247) is terminated locally on FortiGate and does not depend on any firewall policy; these ports are open on the FortiGate itself by default.

NEW QUESTION # 23

Which of the following components are involved in Fortinet Zero-Touch Provisioning architecture?

(Choose three)

Response:

- A. FortiSwitch
- B. FortiDeploy

- C. FortiManager
- D. FortiCloud

Answer: B,C,D

NEW QUESTION # 24

Which actions can FortiGate take when it places a device in quarantine?

(Choose two)

Response:

- A. Add the device's MAC to a quarantine address group
- B. Disable the switch port directly
- C. Apply security profile restrictions dynamically
- D. Remove the device's IP from DHCP lease pool

Answer: A,C
