NEW QUESTION # 332

Which stage type can be altered and dropped?

- A. External stage
- B. Database stage
- C. User stage
- D. Table stage

Answer: A

Explanation:

External stages can be altered and dropped in Snowflake. An external stage points to an external location, such as an S3 bucket, where data files are stored. Users can modify the stage's definition or drop it entirely if it's no longer needed. This is in contrast to table stages, which are tied to specific tables and cannot be altered or dropped independently.

- B. A tag can have multiple masking policies with varying data types
- C. A tag can be dropped after a masking policy is assigned
- D. A tag can have multiple masking policies for each data type.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Snowflake, a tag can be associated with only one masking policy for each data type. This means that for a given data type, you can define a single masking policy to be applied when a tag is used. Tags and masking policies are part of Snowflake's data classification and governance features, allowing for data masking based on the context defined by the tags.
