ISQI IREB Certified Professional for Requirements Engineering. Foundation Level Sample Questions (Q155-Q160):

NEW QUESTION # 155

Starting from an informal and unstructured description of the facts, semiformal description techniques attempt to take a step in the direction of formality, for example to prevent misunderstandings. One of the semiformal description techniques is the sentence-template. What is the most precise definition of a sentence-template as used for requirements? (1 Point)

- A. A sentence-template is a blueprint for the syntax and semantics of a requirement.
- B. A sentence-template is a blueprint for the syntactical structure of an individual requirement.
- C. A sentence-template is a blueprint for a requirement.
- D. A sentence-template is a blueprint for the semantic filling of the individual requirement elements.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 156

Choose the right sentence regarding requirements documents.

- A. All the other options are wrong.
- B. The product backlog is an explicit requirements document.
- C. There is a universal structure that all requirements documents should follow.
- D. A requirements document must also contain additional information and explanations.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

There is no single universal template for requirements documents; structures must be tailored to domain, process model and contractual needs, contradicting A.

In agile, a product backlog is a prioritized list of work items, not a traditional explicit requirements specification, though it does contain requirement-like entries, so B is inaccurate. While many specs include additional project and explanatory information, this is not mandatory, so C overstates. Consequently, the only generally correct answer is that the other statements are wrong.

NEW QUESTION # 157

Which of the following is a major task in Requirements Engineering?

- A. Requirements writing
- B. Verification of requirements
- C. Validation of requirements
- D. Tool support

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 158

Choose the right answer regarding the kinds of requirements.

- A. All the other options are wrong.
- B. Quality requirements describe how a system interacts with its environment.
- C. 'The system shall have at least 90% of availability' is an example of a functional requirement.
- D. Constraints limit the solution space to the point that quality and functional requirements can be fulfilled.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 159

A number of factors influence how the RE process should be configured. Which of the following sentences are NOT true?

- A. The less experienced the Requirements Engineers are, the less sophisticated the RE process should be.
- B. When there is a high degree of trust between the customer and the supplier, more formal specifications should be used.
- C. The more complex the system to be implemented is, the more formal and rigorous the RE process should be.
- D. When schedules and budgets are constrained, a lightweight RE process is often adopted.
- E. The stronger the shared understanding, the more complex and rigorous the RE process should be.

Answer: B,E
